Kills Wife And Neighbor Girl, Commits Suicide

Double Homicide And Suicide In Mingo Junction Home Of Railroader

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 21.—(INS)—Jefferson County Coroner Wilmer Rogers today termed the fatal shooting of John McCoy, 35, Mingo Junction railroader; his wife, Helen, 29, and a 19-year-old neighbor girl as a double homicide and suicide.

Climaxing a dispute over his wife's desire to attend a motion picture theater McCoy shot his wife, turned the gun on the neighbor girl, Kathleen Barcus, and then took his own life. Police officers said McCoy died almost instantly with the death weapon, a .22 caliber revolver, locked in his hand.

Witnessing the tragedy were the McCoys' five children, ranging in age from two to 11 years. They were taken to the Jefferson county children's home.

Officers said the shooting climaxed a long series of domestic complications. The couple was reunited only recently after an extended separation.

Doihara succeeded to the post of first army commander only this week after Fielo Marshal Gen Sugiyama committed suicide Sept. 12.

Charges against Doihara were not immediately specified but he long has been identified with aggressive military cliques of the Japanese army.

On Wednesday afternoon Doihara conferred with Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the Tokyo area, and pledged his fullest cooperation with the occupation program and promised to aid in apprehending war criminals.

New Report On Pearl Harbor Is Sensation

Gov. Dewey Refrained From Use Of Sensational Campaign Material, Says Article

ASSERT ATTACK NOT SURPRISE

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey refrained from using in his 1944 presidential campaign the information that President Roosevelt knew fifteen hours before Pearl Harbor that the Japanese were planning a military break with the United States.

At Marshall's Request

The Republican presidential nominee, his intimates said today, refused to use the sensational campaign material at the urgent request of Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. Army chief of staff.

The governor, who may have sacrificed his White House chances by his silence, was told by General Marshall that American lives might be saved if the Japs were kept ignorant of the fact that the United States had cracked their "ultra secret" code.

This knowledge was in Gov. Dewey's possession long before election day and he was fully aware of the possible lift the flinging of the charge might give his political fortunes.

Friends Verify Reports

Dewey himself declined to comment directly today on the accuracy of a magazine article relating these happenings, but friends of the governor verified them.

These friends said the governor took the position during his cam-

No Decision Yet On Bail Plea For Ellwood Man

Ellwood City Police Chief Only Witness Heard In Habeas Corpus Proceeding

No decision had been handed down at noon today by Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree upon the habeas corpus petition of Anthony Condella, charged with the killing of Isaac Ralph Swartzfager in Ellwood City Saturday night September 15. The hearing was held Thursday afternoon at three o'clock in court room number one.

Under the law, in a habeas corpus petition, the defendant is not permitted to offer any testimony bearing upon his guilt or innocence. The commonwealth offers testimony and it is upon this testimony that the decision is made.

Police Chief Testifies

Police Chief Clark Ricer of Ellwood City was the only witness called. He told of answering the call in front of the West End cafe, of finding the body of Swartzfager and of arresting Condella. He related some of the conversation between him and Condella at the time and after the arrest.

If the court grants the habeas corpus and admits Condella to bail it has no bearing on the outcome of the case, nor does its indicate what the jury will do. It merely indicates that in the opinion of the court the crime does not warrant a first degree verdict. If the petition is granted, the amount of bail is for the court to decide.

Believe Haverford Financier Suicide

Identify Body Of Man Found With Throat Cut As John B. Thayer 3rd

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Lt. Gov. John C. Bell today identified the bloody corpse of a man whose throat had been slit from ear to ear as his lifelong friend, John B. Thayer, 3rd, 51, of Haverford, noted Philadelphia financier and clubman.

Bell said that he had been told Thayer had suffered a nervous breakdown over the death of his son, Edward Thayer, 21, sometime ago in the Central Pacific and apparently had been brooding over the tragic news.

Coroner J. Allan Bertolet said he was of the opinion that Thayer had committed suicide, but that an inquest would be held sometime in the "near future."

"We feel the wounds were self-inflicted," the coroner declared.

Later Thayer's brother, John M., of Newton Square, also identified the body.

The elder Thayer had been reported missing to state police on Tuesday night.

Mysterious Fumes Kill Two Children; Mother Is Rescued

War Veteran Returns Home To Find Wife Unconscious, Chidren Dead

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Authorities today continued their probe into the cause of the deaths of two children and the critical illness of their mother from mysterious fumes.

Andrew Allen Jr., 31-year-old war veteran, told police that when he arrived at his Manayunk home last night he found his wife, Dorothy, unconscious in the doorway between the kitchen and a hall. He carried her out of the building and returned after summoning aid, to find the bodies of his children, Andrew, three, and Carol Ann, one, in the living room.

The children's pet dog was found in the house unharmed.

Although it first appeared gas fumes might have caused the tragedy, authorities said two gas jets on a kitchen stove were still burning when they arrived and that there was no heater or furnace in operation.

Hirohito May Name Brother To Be Regent

Regency Would Terminate With Ascension To Throne Of Crown Prince

OCCUPATION OF JAPAN EXTENDED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 21. The possibility that Emperor Hirohito soon will abdicate in a move designed to wipe Japan's war slate clean was seen today by high-placed Nipponese.

International News Service learned from most reliable sources that a series of tense conferences began at the Imperial palace two weeks ago and that those in high Japanese circles believe that Hirohito will abdicate within the next few months and name one of his brothers as regent.

Regency Would End

The regency would terminate with the ascension to the throne of Hirohito's 12-year old son, Akihoto, when the crown prince reaches the age of 18.

An added flurry of excitement, in view of the palace conferences, was caused by the sudden return to Tokyo of Hirohito's brother, Prince Chichibu, who had retired from court circles six years ago because of ill health.

The 43-year old Chichibu contracted tuberculosis in 1939 and retired to the Imperial villa at Gotemba in the shadow of Scred Mount Fuji.

Upon his arrival in Tokyo Saturday, Chichibu hurried to the Imperial palace for a conference with his elder brother, Hirohito, whose abdication would indicate that he had assumed his share of responsibility in Japan's defeat.

On top of these exciting developments, the Emperor's grand cham-

Report Russia Is Threatening Separate Peace

LONDON, Sept. 21—(INS)—Diplomatic sources said today that Russia is threatening to negotiate separate peace treaties with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary unless the United States and Great Britain recognize the provisional governments now in power in the Soviet-occupied nations.

Observers believe Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov may attempt to break the Anglo-American front by warning the council openly of the Soviet's contemplated action.

See Early Deadlock

The entire matter of the Balkans is reported rushing the big five council of foreign ministers toward an early deadlock.

A diplomatic writer for the London Evening News Chronicle said there is already a virtual stalemate between the eastern and western powers on the Balkan situation.

Where do you get the stuff you write, said my friend with the radiant voice, do you pick the subjects out of a hat or do you have any choice. Do you have to write of your own affairs or those of your friends I ask, and every day that you polish it off does it mean it is much of a task. To all of which I respond this way, the stuff rolls from the machine, and what comes out at the end of the verse is something that has to be seen. The goings on of my neighbors and friends are the subjects I process through, and what do you want from a daily verse, the weather is seventy-two.

Men Of Third Fleet Happy On Return Voyage

ABOARD U.S.S. IOWA WITH PACIFIC VICTORY FLEET, Sept. 21—(INS)—Take it from Gunner's Mate Third Class Edwin Young of Millbury, Mass.—the best thing about this homeward voyage of this part of the U. S. Third Fleet is that there's nothing to scare you.

The U.S.S. Iowa, always known as a "happy ship" is now happier than ever.

Ploughing through the western Pacific at 16 knots so as not to outdistance older battlewagons of the fleet, the Iowa is being painted, cleaned and polished by the crewmen who go about their work gaily.

"They're not only getting ready for the homecoming," said Lt. (jg) D. L. Buckley, Seattle, Wash.," they want everything shipshape aboard for the fellows who have been through plenty—the fellows who will join us at Okinawa for the trip home."

We are scheduled to arrive at Okinawa the day after tomorrow and take aboard returning servicemen.

Latest estimates placed the segment of the fleet led by the Iowa at Pearl Harbor on October 2 and at San Francisco on October 15.

Most of this portion of the fleet will proceed directly to Pearl Harbor with other battleships, cruisers and destroyers joining the procession en route.

WOMAN TELLS HOW NAZIS MADE MURDER SELECTIONS

to commit suicide, when subjected to these experiments, the court was told.

The witness—Dr. Ada Bimko, a Jewess—told of the manner in which those condemned to death were selected.

Order Nude Parade

She said that six Jews, regardless of the state of their health, were ordered to parade nude in front of the doctor and these were put aside with the weak persons being put to death.

SS men and women guards took an active part in the selection, the witness told the British military court. She pointed out that the people were condemned immediately.

Asked to identify the accused who made the selections, the witness pointed out Klein. She then pointed to Juana Bormann, a camp guard, and said:

"In my mind, I see her walking about the camp with a very big leg."

She also recognized 15 others, including two identified as SS operatives, Kramer and Grese. Of all the defendants, Grese is the only one who at some time during the trials has not given evidence of realizing the seriousness of the case.

Describes Executions

Weeping as she described her own relatives' executions in Belsen's gas chamber, the witness said that 4,500 of the 5,000 persons sent to Auschwitz with her also died under similar circumstances.

"When selected, a person had to go quite naked to Hut 25, where they were kept for days without food and drink," she said.

"Of 4,124 sick Jewish women, a thousand were selected."

She said that in August, 1944, she went into one of the gas chambers at Auschwitz where she was made to work as a doctor. While in the chambers, a new crowd destined for execution entered.

"In the first room," the witness said, "the people left their clothes and went into a large room capable of holding hundreds and hundreds. It resembled a shower bath, with several showers suspended from the ceiling and no drains in the floor, which was astonishing.

"All went in, were issued a towel and soap with the impression they were to have a bath."

The testimony was given during the morning session and, after lunch recess, the court officials were prepared to pay another visit to Belsen to refresh their memories of that scene of Nazi infamy.

NEW REPORT ON PEARL HARBOR IS SENSATION

paign that:: "I would rather be defeated for president than to risk damaging the war effort."

The governor was approached by an army colonel, representing Gen. Marshall, the day after he delivered his famous Oklahoma City speech, in which he belabored the Roosevelt administration for allegedly failing to prepare the nation for war.

The colonel flew to Tulsa with a letter from his chief of staff. The opening paragraph directed the governor to stop reading the missive at that point unless he was willing to keep secret the remainder of the letter.

Stopped Reading

Gov. Dewey promptly stopped reading, turned the letter back to the colonel and said the material in the latter part of the letter might already be in his possession from other sources and that a candidate for president could not make blind promises.

Later in the campaign, the same emissary brought another letter from Gen. Marshall, which the governor was permitted to read. It contained what he already knew that the Japanese code had been cracked.

Gen. Marshall added that our knowledge of the code was giving us great advantages and that American lives would be saved if the Japanese could be prevented from learning of our knowledge.

Gov Dewey, not knowing whether the old code still was being used, or whether he was being sidetracked from an election winning issue talked with National Chairman Herbert Brownell and Elliott Bell, one of his close advisors, and decided to go along with Gen. Marshall.

Up to Gen. Marshall

The governor was asked today whether he would make public the second Marshall letter, delivered to him at Albany on Sept. 27, after his return from his Pacific coast campaign trip.

"Since I received the letter in confidence," he replied, "I would refer you to Gen. Marshall for the text of the letter."

The governor also asked if he would accept an invitation to appear before congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor.

"Certainly I would," he replied "if there is any information I have which the committee wanted, although I have no information which is not available directly from government sources."

Although reasons of national security would not require the governor to remain silent at this time his friends pointed out that he hardly would make statements which might be interpreted as emphasizing a "pious" attitude on his part.

Gov. Dewey had read the magazine article covering his knowledge of pre-Pearl Harbor developments in Washington, but he told reporters:

"I would rather not comment at this time on the story."

HIROHITO MAY NAME BROTHER TO BE REGENT

berlain, Admiral Hisanori Fujita visited Gen. Douglas MacArthur at the supreme commander's Tokyo headquarters yesterday morning. Fujita was believed to have made arrangements for a meeting between the Emperor and MacArthur.

It was considered certain that MacArthur would be informed beforehand of any drastic changes in the present governmental setup of Japan but Allied headquarters had no announcement to make concerning the chamberlain's visit.

Demobilization of Japan's once-fiery home army of more than two and a quarter million men, meanwhile, was nearing completion as the Allied deadline of Oct. 15 for disarming Nip forces approached.

Laying Down Arms

Nipponese forces have been laying down their arms at the rate of 50,000 daily since the surrender and approximately 607,000 remained to be demobilized.

The Japanese privy council also indicated its willingness to abide by occupation regulations by approving a decree legalizing government orders issued at the direction of the supreme Allied commander.

In other developments, John Holland, Renegade Australian, was arrested as a war criminal and Gen. MacArthur sent a note to the Japanese government asking information concerning the whereabouts of the Turkish ambassador to Japan and his staff who were taken into custody when Turkey declared war on Nippon.

Holland, who was named on MacArthur's original war criminal list because of his Jap propaganda broadcasts over radio Shanghai was taken into custody on Hokkaido Island.

Extension of occupied areas continued with the Fourteenth Army Corps headquarters established at Sendai, 200 miles north of Tokyo. Marine units were to move in strength into Sasebo on western Kyushu tomorrow.

Two days ago the woman journalist was seen walking about Tokyo and at that time she proclaimed her innocence of charges.

Allied headquarters previously announced today that John Holland, an Australian who was named on MacArthur's original war criminal list, had been arrested.

Holland was charged with propaganda activities for the Japs on radio Shanghai. The Australian was found on Hokkaido, northernmost Jap home island, and is now in the custody of U. S. eighth army military police.

PA NEWC Observes

War, navy and postal authorities are expected to make a joint statement soon on termination of V-mail, which was begun in June, 1942, to hasten mail delivery overseas and conserve shipping space.

As evidence of the temperamental September weather, which has been the equal of any April, Pa Newc was noticing the mixture of casual summer dresses and fall furs on the women on Washington street Thursday afternoon. The hats were definitely on the scarce side, and those that did make an appearance were almost all summer hats. Only one woman was seen with gloves on—they were white and the lady looked almost too nice.

HENRY FORD II HEADS COMPANY

had accepted Henry Ford's resignation. Ford's letter to the directors follows:

"I hereby resign the office of president of this company, to take effect upon acceptance.

Free To Take Step

"I feel free to take this step at this time because the critical period during which I again assumed office has passed. As you know, I have many personal interests to which I now desire to devote most of my time.

"I shall be glad to remain on the board, and to assist in an advisory way.

"May I recommend to the board that it consider the appointment of my grandson, Henry Ford II, as my successor.

"To the officers and directors, I extend my thanks for the cordial cooperation always given me and to which is due so greatly the success of the company."

Second Relinquishment

Young Ford was elected a director of the company on December 19, 1938 and was appointed vice-president on December 15, 1943. His advancement to the executive vice-presidency came in April, 1944.

The elder Ford's resignation marks the second time he has relinquished the presidency of the company. He first became president on July 14, 1906, and held the position until he was succeeded by his son, Edsel B. Ford, on December 31, 1918. On June 1, 1943, a few days after Edsel's death, he again assumed the office.

Ford Motor Company directors, in addition to the elder Ford and Henry Ford II, are: Benson Ford, H. H. Bennett, B. J. Craig, M. L. Bricker, R. R. Rausch and Frank Campsall.

The crux of the issue involved the regimes now in power in the countries occupied and influenced by the Russians.

Besides Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, there is reported to be wide differences of opinion on matters involving Yugoslavia, Albania, Austria and Greece.

Italy To Pay Reparations

Other diplomatic quarters said meanwhile that French sources reported Italy would be called upon to pay reparations to the eastern allies in kind up to a value of $600,000,000. Russia would claim half of this, it was said.

Any claims by the United States and Britain, it was added, would be additional.

The diplomatic correspondent of the London Daily Herald, in a comment on this, said:

Grotesque Condition

"It is grotesque that Italy should be receiving 150 million pounds ($600,000,000) of relief from the west through the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration and paying 150 millions (sterling) to the east."

In the Daily Express the opinion was expressed that the big five believe that Marshal Tito's claim that political control of the port of Trieste be given to Yugoslavia will be conceded.

If this is true, it was said, it would mean that Britain had abandoned its original attitude regarding the port, that is that it should be internationalized, probably under Italian control.

Trailer Camp Never Needed

Sudden End Of War Made Trailer Camp Built Here Surplus

Still sitting in the sun on Jackson avenue vacant as they have always been, the Castle Hill Trailer Project is still with us. With the exception of three trailers that have been moved out, the entire complement of 96 trailers with utility and recreation trailers is still there, a reminder of a housing shortage which never quite developed to the point where folks used the trailers.

The office is closed now and with the exception of a man in charge nobody is around to disturb the serenity of the scene. Some disposition of the trailers will be made some time it is anticipated. They may be shipped to some eastern storage space or they may be sold outright here in New Castle.

The project was a costly one. Sewers had to be laid, electric lines and water lines installed, a black top driveway in the center, known as Roosevelt Lane had to be built and after completion early last spring, a total of three families occupied trailers.

Charge New Scheme Used In Effort To Beat Rent Ceilings

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21—(INS)—The OPA charged today in federal court that Samuel Linefsky of Easton tried to "beat" rent ceiling regulations by requiring tenants to buy furniture as a prerequisite to renting apartments.

Linefsky was said to have compelled two tenants of an apartment house he operates at 1818 N. 16th street, Easton, to buy $350 worth of dilapidated furniture and another tenant $60 worth of furniture before he would rent them living quarters.

The hearing was set for October 18.

Fire Prevention Is Your Job

As the man on the street watches the fire engine roar by with the siren going, he is more apt to get a thrill than a chill from wondering whether it is his home or the place of business where he works that may be on fire. Every day countless people have to hunt new homes or new places to work because they were "burned out."

At this particular time, when reconversion is just getting underway, a fire can be particularly disastrous to employment, for two reasons: Plants are still hard to replace; and with much uncertainty about the use of surplus government properties, there may be justified hesitancy about rebuilding. So anything that can be done to avert fire, helps prevent unnecessary unemployment or moving, with resultant loss of earnings or savings.

Fire prevention is a highly personal problem which can save more than fire fighting. Every man or woman who lights at match or smokes a cigarette should strive to be conscious of the fact that such articles are extinguished before they leave their fingers. Every person using heat-producing electric or gas equipment, should be sure it is out before leaving it. Every person tending a furnace or a stove, or handling gasoline or any other inflammable material, should be constantly alert to the danger of fire, and cause each of their acts to be one of fire prevention, instead of fire carelessness.

If individuals would make themselves responsible for fire prevention, much loss and suffering could be averted during the reconversion period, which no fire department or no fire insurance company can eliminate.

Full Justice For A Traitor

In the hours of Britain's greatest travail a mocking voice gloated from a Nazi radio station. Its owner, William Joyce, came to be called "Lord Haw-Haw." As we know he sneered his way through the war until now a British jury has found him guilty of treason, with the sentence of death.

Thus he joins Quisling in the procession toward dishonorable extinction. And it is well, reflecting the soundness of British justice, that his attempts at technical defense on the ground that he was Brooklyn-born were not permitted to set him free.

The prompt, efficient and full justice accorded to Joyce and Quisling—the deliberate traitors—and to Petain, the doddering, wrong-minded old man of France, are in sharp contrast to the fumbling measures of the Allies, still clouded with uncertainties, to bring the great war criminals to the bar to answer for the millions of lives sacrificed for vicious ideologies and lust for power.

All these should go, and very soon, in the direction in which Joyce is headed.

Big And Little Inch

Sometime within the next month or two the government will stop sending oil and gasoline through the "Big Inch" and the "Little Big Inch" extending from the oil fields of the Southwest to the Eastern Seaboard. If the two pipe lines never carry another gallon they will have been worth every cent of the $146,000,000 they cost. They helped to keep vital industry humming, homes warm and transportation moving during one of the worst crises of the war.

Those days when Nazi submarines were littering East Coast beaches with oil from America's Atlantic tanker fleet seem far away today. But it was a grim period. U-boat depredations brought the nation dangerously close to a point where not enough oil could be transported by sea to meet both essential civilian needs and the growing demands of armies and air fleets abroad.

The "Big Inch" and the "Little Big Inch" saved the day. At that it was a tight pinch and Herculean efforts by railroads were needed to supplement oil that flowed through pipe lines and was shipped by water.

Grade Crossing Accidents Increase

Deaths in motor-vehicle-grade-crossing accidents increased 9 per cent in 1944 over 1943 with a total of 1,667 fatalities, reflecting the increase in both rail and automobile travel during that year.

This is shown in the 1945 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

This grade crossing death toll, however, is still 63 per cent below the 1923 death rate.

Injuries in grade crossing accidents in 1944 numbered 3,851—1 per cent more than in 1943, but still one-third less than in 1923.

Of the 3,299 grade crossing accidents last year, 52 per cent occurred in daylight and 48 per cent at night. Although this is an almost even division, the manner of occurrence of the accidents was quite different, the council says. For while the motor vehicle struck the middle of the train in only 3 per cent of the daytime accidents, it did so in 35 per cent of the night time accidents.

The locomotive struck the motor vehicle in 88 per cent of the daytime grade crossing accidents and in only 52 per cent of the night mishaps. On the other hand, the motor vehicle hit the locomotive in 9 per cent of the day cases and in 13 per cent of the night accidents.

Thirty-eight per cent of the accidents occurred at crossings protected by gates, lights, bells or watchmen. And in 65 per cent of all grade crossing accidents the train was traveling at less than 30 miles an hour, or was standing still.

Missouri Valley Project Again Aired

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Missouri is a wild and rampaging river that flows through some of the wildest and most wonderful country in this great land of ours. Often all too often, the Missouri makes the headlines with stories of flooded towns, homeless citizens, crops ruined.

Here in Washington, a group of men sitting around a table are talking about how to tame the Missouri, how to educate it and make it work for man twelve months out of the year. A subcommittee of the senate committee on irrigation and reclamation is holding hearings on Senator Murray's bill to create a Missouri Valley authority patterned after the Tennessee Valley authority.

Repeat Performance

This hearing is a repeat performance. Earlier this year, another senate subcommittee hears almost the same witnesses make almost the same arguments.

Even more curious is the fact that the chairman of the committee this time was also chairman at the previous hearing. Senator Overton of Louisiana, who is opposed to an MVA, is presiding as on the former occasion, when a commerce subcommittee turned in an adverse report.

Behind the struggle for an MVA are many forces. The private power interests, are, naturally, opposed. They do not want to see public ownership extended through another TVA.

The most active force in favor of an MVA in the valley is the National Farmers Union, which is strongest in the states that lie within the Missouri's watershed. The Farmers Union, sparked by its aggressive young president, James G. Patton, has crusaded for an autonomous authority situated in the valley, with power to reshape that vast region.

Inside Conflict

But inside government, too, there is a conflict. The old-line bureaus that have doctored the rampaging Missouri for so long feel they have a prior claim. An Independent Authority like the TVA might remove them altogether.

The Army engineers and the U. S. Reclamation Bureau in the Department of Interior got together on their own plan for the Missouri Valley. Harry W. Bashore, Reclamation Commissioner, said in an interview in a Denver newspaper that if present federal agencies could be "Coordinated" they could bring the valley all the benefits that would come from an authority.

When Secretary of the Interior Ickes testified at the previous hearing, he said he was in favor "in principle" of the MVA bill. But he believed the valley authorities should report to his department to be coordinated.

Brought Into Clear

The net effect of his testimony, however, was to please the opponents of the bill, as he finished. Senator O'Daniel of Texas thanked him profusely, saying:

"You certainly have been very helpful to us, Mr. Secretary. We are very glad you came because you served to bring this thing out into the clear."

When I wrote about the TVA and Ickes' attitude toward authorities, some time later, the secretary of the interior responded in his inimitable way by calling me every kind of a liar. If, however, you are for something "in principle," but help in practice to bring about its defeat, then your advocacy would seem to be of a curious and dangerous kind.

The claims of conflicting government agencies should have nothing to do with how the Missouri Valley is developed. The test should be the greatest good for the greatest number of people living in the valley.

New Proposal

The Department of Interior has come forward with a new bill providing for the creation of authorities in major river valleys. These authorities would be situated in the region and would report "through" the Department of Interior to the White House. This may be the answer.

We're learning, if slowly, about the power of our natural resources. Life Magazine had a superb spread the other day on the Missouri Valley. But the wild Missouri river, carrying away in flood the fertility of the earth, will not wait indefinitely on the maneuverings of politicians in Washington.

TONICS

It used to be customary for people in this country to take tonics. Especially in the spring of the year it was considered to be a good thing to take a spring tonic. It was supposed to be a bitter brown liquid and the worse it tasted the more good it was supposed to do.

Wild cherry bark, swamp root, boneset, sulphur, "beef, wine and iron", sarsaparilla, and a host of other remedies were supposed to renovate and tone up the system after a long winter.

We have learned that so called tonics are not much good and they have gone out of style. Instead of taking tonics we try to regulate our sleep, our food, our recreation, our work and our religion.

The proper amount of each seems to help to keep us in good condition. Too much work and not enough sleep is not a good combination. Too much religion and not enough work does not seem to work very well sometimes.

The correct use of our leisure time is very important, too.

The church school is a pretty good place to learn about religion.

IMPORTANCE OF TABLE MANNERS

Many a girl loses her man because of her bad table manners. If she blows smoke or coughs across the table while others are eating or makes ugly grimaces while she chews or talks with her mouth full or makes awkward movements with her elbows or hands he may be making a careful inventory of these vulgarisms.

At no other time during the early period of acquaintance or during courtship does he for so long a period directly face her and thus have time to study her so closely as he does during a visit to a cafe or night club.

The most common table faults I notice—in addition to those already mentioned—among young moderns are: Gesticulating with the knife, fork, spoon while eating. Holding them idly in the hand while an elbow rests on the table. Resting upon the table the elbow of the arm being used for handling food. Holding the spoon or fork otherwise than between the thumb and index finger. Buttering and biting from whole slices of bread, instead of breaking them apart. Spreading food upon forks held bottom-side up. Keeping the mouth open or smacking the lips while chewing. Holding stemmed glasses by the bowl instead of by the stem only. Drinking with the head so far back that the glass is raised farther than horizontal.

Question: Do you think it proper for a young man and woman, twenty-two years old, to go away for week-ends, staying at the same house? I say it is not: Am I old-fashioned?

Answer: If they are going to visit a relative or close friend who is older and of a responsible age and temperament, they will then be properly chaperoned. But if they are merely going away together to stay at a hotel or boarding house without the protection of an older person, this is not "according to the book." Even though the chaperon belongs to an age that has passed into oblivion, nevertheless every young girl going away for an over-night visit with a man should be thus protected against gossip, if nothing else.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD'S EARLY TERROR OF DOGS

In the following letter, we see how early a specific fear (which could have been prevented) can begin and how stubbornly it may persist.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Our four-year-old son has a terrible fear of dogs which seems to stem from a serious fright by a large collie when he was only a few months old. At that particular time the baby was being held by a friend of mine who wanted to show him the dog, which began barking furiously and my friend in an attempt to quiet the dog, went closer to it with the baby and then I saw that the baby's face was dead white. From that time on he has screamed in honest terror if there is a dog on the street, even a block away, in case it is headed toward him.

Barking Dog

"When we speak of going anywhere where there is a dog, he always asks, 'Does it bark?' But if there is a dog around, barking or not, he runs for me to pick him up and clings to me with a strangle hold.

"He will not walk past a house where there is a dog out even when he is in a fenced yard. But he enjoys seeing the animals at the zoo, and will get as close as the barriers permit, without any sign of fear.

Pet Store

"We have tried to assure him in every way we can think of, but he just flatly refuses to go near a dog. At one time I took him to a pet store to see the tiny puppies in the window, but he just screamed and would not leave the car. We have told him the dogs bark because they are glad to see him and are saying 'Hello,' and we've told him that when he runs from a dog it thinks he wants to play and runs after him just as his daddy does when he plays with him.

"My greatest concern is that there are many dogs in the neighborhood which are allowed to run loose, and it will not be long before he goes to school, and I'm afraid the other children will taunt him and, perhaps make him dislike school.

Getting Puppy

"We have considered getting a puppy for him although we don't want to if there is any other solution. A self-addressed envelope is enclosed."

Enclosing my special bulletin "Fears," I wrote this mother: You are on the right track, only you will have to devise more gradual means to help this child reduce his fear of dogs.

Show him pictures of dogs, read to him about dogs, get him a toy dog to play with. In the meanwhile keep him at a comfortable distance from dogs. He is not ready for a puppy yet. Go with him where children have a puppy, carefully protecting him then, or where he can play with children in sight of a dog that is tied. If after long, patient gradual adjustment, you induce him to touch a gentle dog, great will be the victory.

This principle of very gradual adjustment should guide us in helping any child overcome a definite fear. Try to see that nobody laughs at this child's fears. Avoid talking of them in his presence. The better he learns to play with other children in normal ways, the faster he should grow in courage.

THE COAXER

Well, I suppose, it's their nature at that!
Females are born with the love for a hat,
Ribbons and laces and ruffles and hems,
Pretties and Perfumes and glittering gems;
Born with the knowledge men fall for a hoax!
Ellen Elizabeth's started to coax!

Here she is, just a few months over four,
Knowing that tears are what all men abhor;
Knowing that if for a moment she cries
What she is after her grandfather buys,
Knowing that males are all soft-hearted blokes.
Ellen Elizabeth's started to coax!

Just like the rest of them, back through the years,
Wheedling with kisses or winning with tears,
Born with the "gimmies" and born with the art
Of getting her men-folk with money to part;
All the sweet wiles of her sex she invokes,
Ellen Elizabeth's started to coax.

The State Police Say:

There appears to be a widespread belief among ex-service men that they may legally operate an automobile in Pennsylvania for one year following their discharge from military service without obtaining an operator's license. The privilege of operating without the current years' license is granted to persons who are actually in some branch of the military service and this privilege expires immediately upon discharge. United States government operator's licenses issued to persons while in the military service may not be used by ex-service men in lieu of a Pennsylvania operator's license.

Fight To End Draft Is Unlikely To Succeed
Army Still Needs Men For Occupation Duty
President Truman Still Prefers Simple Life

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Look for a big—but unsuccessful—fight in Congress to end the draft without further delay.

Members have been deluged with letters from constituents demanding that the draft be ended, especially that boys of 18 and 19 be exempt from further inductions.

On the other hand, thousands of letters have poured in on members demanding that men now in service be demobilized without delay and be permitted to return to their homes.

President Truman and the War and Navy departments have warned Congress that men now in service cannot be demobilized that an occupation army maintained if inductions are not continued.

Members of the House military affairs committee have been patiently impressed by this argument and indications are that no action will be taken to end conscription—at least for the time being.

Airlines Eye Russia

One of the big unanswered peacetime questions concerns Russia's attitude toward permitting commercial airlines of Allied nations free use of airport facilities.

Russia's attitude in the past has been one of isolation. Whether that position will be relaxed is a question airline officials would like answered soon.

The United States is getting a slow start in the world airline race because the Army has been hesitant about releasing four-motored transport planes suitable for long over-water flights.

Atomic power has caused the nation's distinguished scientists to revamp their studies. Members of at least one group now foresee the possibility of a plane which would fly from the east coast to China without refueling.

This is the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' gas-turbine co-ordinating committee, which has completed an optimistic report on atomic power.

Its chairman, R. Tom Sawyer, a recognized authority on Diesel engines, said it may be possible to create an atomic power unit of more than 200,000 kilowatts. He thinks that coal and oil will be used with atomic power to obtain peak efficiency.

Auto Buyers Cautious

Possible buyer resistance to new 1946 automobiles is a factor looming ahead in the automobile picture which would work to cut down the expected rush for new models and tend to hasten the end of car rationing.

As industry and government experts see it now, a great many potential car buyers have indicated that they will move carefully in picking a new postwar machine.

Many are expected to adopt a "wait and see" attitude about the first models to roll off the assembly lines, prefering to watch actual driving experience before making a purchase. Others are waiting until 1947 on the theory that new designs, performance and perhaps, lower prices, may be available then.

President Truman, without any effort, is continually giving evidence of his preference for the simple life and creating the homespun flavor building up about him.

At a reception given by Byron Price, popular censorship head, by Washington correspondents at the National Press club, Mr. Truman joined the festivities. He left early, however. A newspaperman friend who covers the White House asked why he was leaving so soon.

"I have to," he said dolefully. "We're having company for dinner." Then, as an afterthought, he added: "We're always having company."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Carey Padgett Hodson, 50-year-old Yale freshman, died a few days ago after a heart attack in his classroom.

He was the oldest freshman in the university's history and had enrolled to keep a promise which he made to his stepson, Pfc. Henry Carey, a Yale senior, who was killed in action in Germany.

Young Carey was proud of being a Yale man. He made his stepfather pledge himself to be a Yale man, too, in the event that he did not return.

Education has come in for much criticism in the last few years, although the fault is not nearly so much with education itself as with the educators.

I don't know whether young Carey's pride in his college and his education originated by virtue of his teachers or his parents or as an inborn trait of character.

But I do know that one of the things that have been sadly neglected is the creation of a desire for education in the average student.

To most youngsters education is something like cod-liver oil or combing your hair. It's something that has to be done, so you may as well do it and have it over with.

But how many children are made to understand what vistas education opens up to them, what adventure there is in knowledge and how essential it is to success in later life?

Only last evening I had dinner with a well-to-do man and his wife. He had worked his way up from poverty to success and married her when both were very young—and still very poor.

Today they have just about everything the human heart desires—all except education.

Both had to leave school early to make their own living, and in spite of diamonds and automobiles and a beautiful home, they show that lack of education in lack of poise and of that self-assurance which only education and culture can give.

"But I shall see to it," he said to me, "that my children will have the best possible education. A million dollars cannot give you what four years in college can."

I agreed. But I called his attention to the word "can."

Education CAN give you poise and success. But it can do it only if the educators themselves make education not just a chore for themselves and a druge for their students, but a thrilling adventure and a fascinating journey into the realm of unlimited possibilities.

Education, to be successful, must be exploration.

The World and the Mud Puddles

NATURAL MONOPOLY

It is announced that a Cleveland concern has made a bid for the Pullman railroad sleeping car service and may become the operator of this important appendix to railway travel. The segregation of the Pullman manufacturing business and the business of operating Pullman cars was ordered by the courts as anti-monopoly proposition.

Just what will be achieved in behalf of the public by this segregation is a matter for wonder. Any concern which operates the country's Pullman service still will be a monopoly in that particular business. Such concern will have to buy its equipment from the Pullman Company, which also remains a monopoly in the supply of cars. Certainly a company which purchases Pullman cars will have to pay a profit to the seller. It also will have to make a profit on its service.

The segregation may be a techni-

Newspapers Appraised

(From the Altoona Mirror)

While we are living in an ever-changing age of the world, the result of inventions and new discoveries, accentuated by the problems of war and peace, there are some things that change little as time rolls along. Outstanding among the unchangeable is the desire of the public for their newspapers.

Despite the competition they have and the substitutes that have been offered, it may well be doubted if there ever was a time since there have been newspapers when they are more highly prized by an overwhelming majority of the people than they are today.

This is proved by the survey just made by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association in St. Louis where all three dailies did not issue for almost three weeks because of a carriers' strike and a survey similarly conducted for the association by Fact Finders Associates, Inc., during a strike in New York in the first half of July.

It is confirmed by the attitude of the people in our own community and, in fact, anywhere in which public sentiment may be appraised. All will concur in the truthfulness of the statement made in the headlines over the story of the late surveys in yesterday's editions of the Altoona Mirror, which said that "There's No Substitute for Newspapers."

Americans are a newspaper reading people and they are likewise a bookreading people. With a great many the newspaper is the substitute for books but there is nothing to take the place of the newspaper. True enough, they can glimpse the news by turning on the radio, but they have to rely upon the newspaper for a complete coverage of what is going on and for the many features which they prize in the columns of their favorite newspaper and which can be obtained nowhere else, all along the line from "That Body of Yours" down to the comics and the crossword puzzle, to say nothing of the daily messages of the favorite store.

One of the reasons why there is no substitute for the newspaper is the fact that the people by long experience have learned that they can rely upon them. They know that the vast majority of newspapers are founded upon character and principle and are conducted with a conscience and with a sense of obligation to their patrons, to the community they serve and to the country at large.

It is this sense of obligation which leads those engaged in publishing and writing for the newspapers to strive to do their best at all times and under all circumstances. They strive day by day to merit the approval and appreciation of their readers.

Seek To Give Power To Settle Labor Disputes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Four Democratic senators—McMahon, Conn.; Thomas, Utah; Hayden, Ariz., and Tunnell, Del.—united Thursday in introducing a bill in the senate expanding federal machinery for settlement of labor disputes.

The measure which avoids compulsion and other proposals which have been assailed by labor leaders, provides:

1. Establishes divisions of mediation and conciliation in department of labor, expanding present conciliation service.

2. Establishes U. S. board of arbitration, whose services would be available if both labor and industry so desires.

3. Empowers the president to appoint boards of inquiry to hold hearings on disputes which vitally affect the public interest. Hearings will be held only for purpose of giving facts to public.

Rubinoff To Play For Elks Charities

Internationally-Known Violinist To Appear Here Next Tuesday Under Elks' Auspices

Rubinoff, America's best liked violin virtuoso, who will appear at The Cathedral next Tuesday evening, September 25, under the auspices of the Elks War Commission Board and the Elks Rehabilitation Committee, organized to aid men in service and those returning, who are in need of assistance, is expected to attract a record throng.

And Rubinoff is accustomed to record crowds. As soloist and guest conductor for one performance with the Chicago Symphony in Grant Park, he played to 225,000 people. At Soldier's Field in Chicago in 1935, he played to 84,000 and on another occasion at Grant Park, played before 125,000 people.

Since the outbreak of the war, Rubinoff and his violin have appeared before countless soldiers in camps throughout the country. As one of the most diligent of Treasury Department aids, Rubinoff has played at hundreds of bond rallies and sold millions of dollars worth of bonds.

According to George A. Patterson, chairman of the committee in charge of the coming performance, Rubinoff will play for the students of the Senior and two Junior high schools here, giving free performances for the students next Tuesday. He will also visit the Deshon Annex and play for the soldiers.

Detroit's Woes Are Increased

Even Detroit Tigers Appear To Be Stumbling In Pennant Race

STRIKE SPREAD IS STILL FEARED

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Detroit, which has had a mild case of jitters for several days because of labor rows, today was in even a more nervous state of mind.

The reasons:

1. The strike of the Oil Workers International Union, CIO, which started in Detroit and spread to the midwest and southwest, threatens to slow this motor city to a walk.

2. The labor disputes which have made approximately 80,000 idle in the Detroit area are growing more bitter, although there is no possibility of an immediate general strike by the United Automobile Workers.

3. The Detroit Tigers, only one game out in front in the American League, seem to be stumbling and Detroit baseball fans, those whom there are none more rabid, have their fingernails bit down to the quick.

The oil strike started over a demand by the union for a 30 per cent increase in wages. The UAW has made the same demand, but has withheld strike action.

Meeting Is Planned

Edgar L. Warren, new chief of the U. S. conciliation service in Washington, announced that a meeting will be held with the oil strikers next week, probably in Chicago.

This will be the first government effort to come to grips with the 30 per cent wage increase demand and the meeting is being eagerly awaited by the United Automobile Workers.

The oil strike already has closed or affected every gasoline concern in the Detroit area except the Sun Oil Co. Rankin Peck, president of the Michigan Oil and Gas Association, said 40 per cent of the filling stations in the area now are closed and 80 per cent will be closed by Monday.

The Detroit city government had to borrow 14 thousand gallons of gas from the Detroit Street Railway Co. to operate police cars, fire truck and ambulances. The railway company has only an 8-day supply of gasoline.

The American Automobile Association said it probably would issue a warning to motorists not to attempt any trips.

Death Toll In Explosion Three

Fire In Doylestown Home Takes Lives Of Two Court Wards And Matron

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 21.—(INS)—The death toll mounted to three today following an explosion and fire in the home of Miss Salome M. Rickert, 58, who cared for infant wards of the Bucks county courts.

Two babies, Richard Janney, six months old, a county ward, and Walter Smith, 17 months old yesterday, lost their lives immediately when the blast occurred, authorities said, as Miss Rickert attempted to light a heater in the basement.

Miss Rickert, uninjured by the explosion, died later in a hospital of burns received when she rushed into one of the flaming rooms of her home and rescued a third child.

Walter was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, who had an apartment in the building. Mrs. Smith jumped from a second story window and then aided in the rescue of five other children who had been playing on a porch. None of the quintet was injured.

cal moral victory from the standpoint of government lawyers, but the probabilities are that the public will pay more, rather than less, in the long run.

There are, unquestionably, natural monopolies, and the Pullman car business is one of them. We have gotten along very well with the telephone company. We found that it was simply impossible to talk about competition in the telephone business and the telephone company has not hurt anybody.

WESTMINSTER GUILD HAS INDOOR PICNIC

Westminster auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church opened the year's activties with an annual corn and hamburger picnic at the home of Mrs. Albert Fankhauser, 219 Hazelcroft avenue, one of the patronesses of the organization.

At the business meeting following the indoor dinner, a campaign for enlarged membership was planned, as well as a textile painting project.

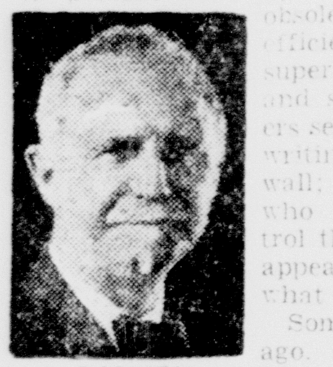
Babson Again Turns His Attention To Education

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 21.—As another school year opens, I want to again go on record that the present school system is largely obsolete and inefficient. School superintendents and some teachers see the handwriting on the wall; but those who really control the situation appear blind to what is going on.



BABSON

Some years ago, a few far-seeing educational leaders were convinced that moving pictures had great possibilities in connection with the public schools. They thereupon urged certain concerns to make "educational" films. These concerns have done a good job and these films are being used today successfully in many schools and colleges. They, however, teach only history, science and certain other factual subjects, without developing the character of the child.

By "character" I mean his purposes, habits and desires. As every modern psychologist knows—character is the big thing for which the public schools should aim. Yet, we turn this very technical task over to plumbers, storekeepers and politicians to solve. Top-notch educationaal experts tell me that the answer lies with properly directed emotional visual education.

Study Your Own Children

I have a bunch of grandchildren. Incicentally, I believe that good healthy grandchildren, who love to work and have been taught to pray, are the best inflation hedges which any man can have. Naturally, I want them "educated" in addition. But here is what troubles me: One of my grandchildren is a girl 12 years old. She has little interest in her school work except the games which she is taught to play. Yet, at home she is "glued", most of the time, to the radio. Like most other kids, she is crazy to go to the movies. She knows the names of all the leading movie and broadcasting actors. She especially likes the movie and radio dramas. Upon checking with neighborhood parents, I find that their children measure up about the same.

Schools Must Go Drama

Some old maids reading this column will say that young children should not be allowed to go to the movies or listen to these radio "bedtime" features. Others blame the inefficiency of the public schools on the home and pass the buck to the parents. What is the answer? Should the children be forbidden to listen to these radio dramas and attend the run of movies or shall the public school adopt more visual emotional education while still retaining discipline?

Frankly, our present educational system must be amended. The school committees—backed up by the publishers of textbooks—are forcing children to drive "horse and buggies" in an automobile and airplane era. Unless the public schools are to turn the real education of our children over to the commercial movie and broadcasting companies, then schools must install more visual education and drama. Otherwise, the public schools will gradually become a waste of time and money.

What Will Television Do?"

All of the above is true without any consideration of what will happen to our children when television gets into every home. Considering the present influence on the child's character of going to the movies only once or twice a week, what will happen when television operates in all homes all of every evening? Really the situation is very serious.

I am making no appeal for the movies, or radio. I sometimes wish neither had ever been invented. Moreover, I am much opposed to "babying" or "amusing" children. Schools should not engage in any appeasement program. I even believe that the bamboo stick and black walnut ruler should be restored as a part of the public school system. My appeal is merely this: The first purpose of the schools, after teaching the "3 R's" should be to awaken children intellectually and spiritually. The best way to accomplish this may be to scrap much of the present school system and institute more carefully selected, both factual and emotional, visual education.

5. Made her live in their Pittsburgh home while it was being built.

Judge L. Kenneth Harkins ordered Ringeisen to pay $70 monthly to the support of his wife and child.

Temple Israel Feast Of Booths

Thanksgiving Services Will Be Observed For Eight Days At Temple Israel

Feast of Biblical Feast of Sukos (Booths) will be celebrated for eight days in the Reform Temple, starting this evening at sunset.

The festival is of ancient origin, but in its modern form combines many ideas. The most characteristic feature is the injunction that every Israelite should dwell in booths for eight days. Today the festival is observed as a thanksgiving day and harvest feast. While many families erect booths for this period, it is also customary to place them on the premises of the synagogue, where a reception is held after services.

Services at Temple Israel will be conducted Friday evening, starting with the regular late Friday evening services at eight o'clock.

Saturday morning services will be conducted for children at 10 o'clock. The children's religious school legislation will take place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Members of the Temple Israel Sisterhood will be hostesses Friday evening in the social rooms of the synagogue after services, and on Saturday morning for the children's party.

Confirmation Of Acheson Is Seen Despite Dispute

Bitter Debate Aroused Over Implied Criticism Of Gen. Douglas MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(INS)—Senate Majority Leader Barkley predicted today that Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson will be confirmed Monday despite bitter debate aroused by the official's implied criticism of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Delay Urged

The senate postponed action on Acheson's nomination and others before it after Sens. Wherry (R) Neb., and Chandler (D) Ky., accused him of "insulting" MacArthur.

Chandler and Wherry urged delay in confirming Acheson until they could get a "clarification" of his comments on MacArthur's statement that only 200,000 regular army troops will be needed to occupy Japan six months from now.

Acheson, now serving as acting secretary of state, had said that the occupation army "is an instrument of our policy toward Japan and not a determination of that policy," which would be made in Washington.

Wherry touched off the debate by severely criticizing Acheson and a half-dozen senators engaged in the free-for-all discussion before Barkley moved an adjournment until Monday.

Stubborn Refusal

The Nebraskan charged Acheson with "a stubborn refusal to recognize changed conditions" and asserted that he appeared bent on carrying out "a preconceived occupation policy regardless of actual conditions."

"The government is still a government of the people and Acheson does not make its policy," he declared.

Angrily waving a copy of Acheson's statement, Wherry shouted that "this has blackened the name of one of the greatest generals this country has ever known."

Barkley leaped to his feet, declaring that Wherry's statement was "ridiculous."

"No one insulted Gen. MacArthur in the state department or elsewhere," said Barkley who praised both the general and Acheson.

"I'll leave that to the American people," Wherry retorted.

SEES HISTORIC PLANES

1927 10th Road, South
Arlington, Va.

New Castle News:
Dear Sirs:

Wednesday evening just before 10 o'clock the three B-29 planes that have just made their famous hop from Japan to Chicago and on to Washington, D. C., flew over our house, and we saw them prepare to land at National Airport. It was such a big thrill to hear all twelve motors roar as they came by with their landing lights on. In fact, one can hardly describe the event in proper words.

Just to see those huge planes above, motors roaring and their lights against the sky, was something I will long remember, even though I had seen four such planes before. Now I've seen seven.

I soon hope to visit good old New Castle. I formerly lived on Hillcrest avenue before my marriage.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Helen Adams Wood

ONE OUT OF FIVE GI'S WEAR SPECS

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(INS)—One out of five soldiers wears glasses and to each of these now is issued a gas mask equipped with specially designed spectacles attached inside, it was revealed today by a Rochester optical firm. Standard equipment for spectacle wearing soldiers facing the fanatical Japs, the gas mask spectacle was developed shortly before the Italian campaign and rushed overseas to take care of invasion requirements.

POOR NAZI FLAG! NOBODY WANTS IT

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—A giant Nazi flag 24 feet long is embarrassing Portland's city fathers. They won't hang it in the city hall as the captain who sent it, a former city auditor, wanted. The city library does not want to be "nazified", either.

Seek To Break Impasse Over Pacific Bases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(INS)—The house naval affairs committee moved today to break an impasse between the navy and state departments over the retention of Pacific bases acquired during the war.

Both the committee and high ranking officers of the navy department displayed impatience over the failure of the state department to make known its policy on the matter of permanent acquisition of naval bases in lands held by other nations.

The matter arose during a heated committee discussion on the proposed size of the postwar navy.

To Call Acheson

Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., chairman of the committee, announced that acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson would be called before the committee—probably next week—to explain the department's position on the matter.

At a committee hearing, Admiral F. J. Horne, vice chief of naval operations, disclosed that the joint chiefs of staff had submitted to the state department a list of bases which it considered necessary to retain in the postwar years for national defense purposes.

Horne asserted, however, that the navy had not been informed of the state department's position and added, with a show of impatience, that he would like to know the answer himself.

"Dilly-Dallying"

Rep. Mott (R) Ore., ranking Republican member of the committee charged that "The state department has been dilly-dallying around" and declared that the committee had a "right" to know what policy the department plans to pursue.

Vinson observed that the navy has made up its mind as to what should be done on the matter of Pacific bases, but that it cannot proceed any further without being informed of the state department's attitude.

Rep. Hebert (D) La., declared that the nation's policy should be determined quickly. He warned that "we'll wake up some morning and find out we can't have what we wanted because somebody has given it away."

Adm. Horne disclosed, however, that the navy has issued orders that all Pacific bases are to be retained in at least a "stand-by" condition until a final decision has been reached on their disposal.

Hebert, who also pressed for state department testimony on the matter, asserted that "the navy and the people are on one side and certain people in the state department are on the other."

Street Department Begins Winter Work

Several Days Every Week From Now On To Be Spent Collecting Ashes For Winter Streets

Even before the leaves have started to fall, the city street department has begun to stock up ashes for the winter snows. Already about two carloads are stocked at the department's office on Grove street, about a carload on Taylor street, and from 10 to 15 carloads on Cedar street, says James Gibson, director of the street department.

Because the snows came so thick and fast that the office lost track of just how many truck loads were sent out, Mr. Gibson is not sure how much ash was used. During a snow, 50 to 60 truckloads are used every 24 hours, and last winter the number sometimes went up to 62 or 63.

Must Be Screened

After being collected from local railroads and industries, the ashes have to be screened, and the clinkers and stones hauled to the dump. The department has been wanting a crusher for a long time, and now that the war is over, the city may be able to get one and use all the clinkers now thrown away.

From now on, one or two days every week will be devoted to hauling ashes, said Mr. Gibson. Along with that will go the work of collecting leaves—a six weeks job.

And before the season gets too advanced, the city's new snow plow—the first it has ever had—will be attached to the front of one of the trucks. Up till now, the department had to use ordinary dirt scrapers and last year when the first heavy snow hit town, the scrapers were in the shop being repaired.

FOX THAT BIT MAN IS RABID

CLARION, Pa., Sept. 21.—Reports from state laboratories at Harrisburg show that the grey fox that bit Willis Boozer, of Shannondale, last Wednesday was rabid. Boozer is now under the care of a physician, and is being treated for rabies.

Boozer was beside a bulldozer at Half Acre church, between Clarion and New Bethlehem. Standing still, he watched the fox approaching, but when the animal reached him, it pounced on the man and bit him. Before Boozer could beat it off and kick it under the bulldozer he was severely bitten five or six times.

Fellow workers clubbed the animal to death, and sent the head to Harrisburg, where the examination for rabies was made. Several others who handled the fox are under observation.

The animal was a full-grown grey fox in vigorous physical condition.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN!--IT'S TOO LATE FOR THEM

From Lake Erie To Tokyo Bay Is Victory Saga Of U. S. Navy

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—One hundred and thirty-two years ago this month Americans were celebrating their country's first important naval victory—the defeat of the British on Lake Erie, September 10, 1813.

The victorious American commander was young Captain Oliver Hazard Perry, whose brilliant leadership and daring courage are hallowed traditions of our navy today.

Perry's flagship, the Niagara, in which he won the Battle of Lake Erie, is now being restored as nearly as possible to its original condition and will become a historic shrine in the city of Erie. The small park in which the flagship will have a permanent berth is being landscaped and beautified with funds appropriated by the 1945 General Assembly. Restoration and maintenance of the Niagara is under administration of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

It was from the deck of the Niagara that Perry, then only 27 years old, penned his famous message to General William Henry Harrison: "We have met the enemy and they are ours; two ships, two brigs, one schooner and one sloop." For the first time in history the British had lost an entire squadron. The Americans lost 123 in killed and wounded, the British 135. With Perry during the battle was his 12-year-old brother Matthew, destined years later to open the civilization of the world to medieval Japan.

A folder issued by the Pennsylvania Historical Commission tells how Pennsylvania played a leading role in the building of Perry's victory fleet. According to the leaflet, "the Niagara and most of the other vessels were constructed on Pennsylvania soil, and many Pennsylvanians had a share in building, equipping and manning them."

The building of the fleet at Erie was accomplished in the face of the most adverse circumstances in an hour of national peril as dark as that following the disaster at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941.

Perry's victory gave the United States naval supremacy on the upper Great Lakes for the remainder of the war and removed a possible threat to American possession of the Northwest Territory from which six states were later carved. Few naval battles had more momentous results.

Medicines could not be bought in Manila up to June, all of the inadequate supplies being distributed free to hospitals and clinics.

CAMP CARSON, Col.—(INS)—Many convalescents at Camp Carson hospital center who have never done more with radio than flick a switch now seek radio shop work hobbies with "ham" sets, and further training in more advanced radio technique. Two radio shops have been set up at the convalescent hospital and students use their own Signal Corps transmitter. Personal chats that will carry as far as 50 miles go over the air waves each day from radio students.

Cpl. Mudd Says His Name Is No Laughing Matter

HEADQUARTERS, PANAMA CANAL DEPARTMENT, Sept. 21.—(INS)—There is a soldier in the Panama Coast Artillery Command whose name is Mudd, and no matter how you spell it, he insisted today, it is no laughing matter.

"Sure my name is Mudd," said Cpl. William J. Mudd, of Hannibal, Mo., a power plant operator in Col. Adolph L. Ramon's anti-aircraft automatic weapons group. "And it's no joke. What I mean is that it's always a joke, and believe me, it's no joke to have guys always poking about your name."

Cpl. Mudd allowed that it was lucky he is good natured, because he is repeatedly confronted with incidents such as when a sergeant upbraided him in basic training, and shouted, "Your name is mud, soldier."

No Wise Guy

"All I did," the Coast Artilleryman recalled, "was tell him that he was right, only it was spelled with two d's, but he didn't seem to get the humor of it. He wanted to know if I thought I was a wise guy, and I said no, just that my name was Mudd, as he said it was."

Most nicknames are abbreviations, but Cpl. Mudd lamented that the opposite was true in his case.

"The fellows in my outfit call me 'dirt and water' for short," he explained. "Sometimes they get real kind and call me 'Muddy' or 'Swampy'. When we played football back home on rainy days, with the field all gooey, my teammates would turn upon me in every huddle, chorus, 'You're all over the field,' and laugh like mad. Y'ever hear anything so corney?"

Cpl. Mudd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thurman Mudd, live at 2107 Chestnut street, Hannibal.

EMPERIOR HIROHITO

Emperior Hirohito of Japan, whose abdication appeared more than likely today, is called in standard reference works the emperor "who made history by smashing traditions."

He first broke with tradition as crown prince by appearing unescorted in the streets, golfing and visiting theaters and by making an unprecedented visit to Europe in 1921.

But in 1923, three years before he mounted the throne as emperor to begin a reign ironically designated officially as the "period of light and peace," he abruptly ceased such democratic practices after a political fanatic attempted to assassinate him. Since then he has appeared publicly only in the opening of the Diet, and at military reviews.

To many Americans, Hirohito or his successor on the throne represents the best hope of exercising a firm control over conquered Japan. To many others, Hirohito is a war criminal, personally responsible for sanctioning the war in the Pacific and for not effectively halting the innumerable atrocities committed by the Jap war-making machine.

Emperor Hirohito's future is more uncertain than ever today. Perhaps his final "tradition-smashing" act will be abdication under pressure of a foreign conqueror.

Health Secretary Is Eighth In Office

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—The Pennsylvania Department of Health has had fewer administrative heads than any other major branch of the state government—eight including the present secretary of health, Dr. Harry W. Weest, who took office September 4, 1945.

Dr. Weest succeeded Dr. A. H. Stewart who died July 31, 1945.

The Department of Health was created in April, 1905, superseding the former State Board of Health with largely increased powers. Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, noted authority on sanitation, first commissioner of health under the original set-up, served 13½ years of that administartion, was reappointed by Governors Stuart, Tener and Brumbaugh.

Dr. Edward Martin, widely known in other public fields besides medicine, and president of the Philadelphia Board of Education at the time of his death, served under Governor Sproul. The cabinet post was held by Dr. Charles H. Miner during the first Pinchot administration when the change of title from commissioner to secretary took place under the 1923 code. Dr. Theodore B. Appel was state secretary of health under Governor Fisher, and was retained by Pinchot in the latter's second term.

Dr. Edith MacBride Dexter headed the health department as secretary thorughout the Earle administration. Dr. John J. Shaw, first health secretary in the administration of Governor Arthur H. James, died in office.

APPLES DOWN IN 1945

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—Pennsylvania's 1945 commercial apple production prospects declined sharply during August and the outlook is for a crop only about one-third of 1944 production, the State Department of Agriculture announced. Condition of the crop on September 1 was given as 28 per cent of normal, according to a survey as of that date by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

Army To Reduce Radio Activities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—The war department announced today that official army network broadcasts and personnel connected with them will be cut 50 per cent by the end of September.

Personnel made surplus by the reduction in radio activities will be transferred to separation centers for discharge, if eligible under the point system, the war department said. The move affects about 100 persons.

The AAF radio program unit in Los Angeles is scheduled to be inactivated Sept. 30. All actual broadcasting will be handled after Oct. 1 by the AAF production unit in New York City.

Press Code For Japan Is Given

Gen. MacArthur Outlines Code To Be Followed By Newspapers Of Nation

STRICT ADHERENCE TO TRUTH ORDERED

TOKYO, Sept. 21—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur outlined a 10-point press code for Japan today in the wake of reports that Emperor Hirohito may abdicate.

The press code was designed to educate the Japanese in the maning of a free press and cover news, editorials and advertisements in all publications printed in Japan.

MacArthur's code places emphasis on truth in the news as opposed to slanted propaganda.

Ten Points

The 10 points set forth were:

1. News must adhere strictly to the truth.
2. Nothing is to be printed which directly or indirectly disturbs public tranquility.
3. There shall be no false or destructive criticism of the Allied powers.
4. There shall be no destructive criticism of the Allied forces of occupation and nothing which might invite mistrust or resentment of these troops.
5. There shall be no mention or discussion of Allied troop movements unless officially released.
6. Stories must be factually written and completely devoid of editorial opinion.
7. Stories must not be colored to confirm with any propaganda.
8. Minor details of news must not be over-emphasized for stressing propaganda.
9. Stories must not be distorted by omission of pertinent facts.
10. In newspaper makeup no story may be given undue prominence for the purpose of establishing an developing propaganda.

The code evidently was designed to avert further suspensions such as those briefly levied on the Asahi, the Nippon Times and the Japanese Domei agency.

How To Secure Longer Furlough

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21—(INS)—State selective service headquarters advised veterans eligible for 15-day extensions of redeployment furloughs today to contact the military authorities who granted the original leaves and not local draft boards.

A spokesman said inquiries had been made at headquarters by members of local boards after soldiers had appealed for aid under the misapprehension that they would be able to facilitate extensions.

HUSBAND ACCUSED

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Sept. 21—(INS)—Clarence Elsenrath, 26, of Brackenridge, was under arrest in Allegheny Valley hospital, Tarentum, today charged with slashing his estranged wife in Verona Wednesday.

Elsenrath was found wandering in New Kensington with his wrists slashed. He refused to say how he was injured, county detectives said.

They quoted Mrs. Betty Elsenrath, 23, Verona, as saying Elsenrath slahsed her neck with a knife.

Charge Illegal Boosting Of Fine And Costs In Case

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21—(INS)—Louis H. Jackson, Glassport justice of the peace, today faced charges of illegally boosting the fine and costs in a case while his fellow Glassport squire, Stephen Marcus, awaited trial on a misconduct in office charge.

Jackson was charged with raising the fine and costs from $20.80 to $48.80 in a disorderly conduct case.

The justice was also charged with "arbitrarily" refusing to release the defendant from jail under bond.

The defendant, Crawford Davis, Glassport, filed a notice of appeal and the fine was later reduced to $10 and the costs to $10.80, Davis' attorney said. A hearing on the appeal was set for Ocotber 3 in county court.

Demand More Speed In Army Demobilization

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(INS)—Demands that the Army step up demobilization were renewed in Congress today despite the assurances given by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

Legislation designed to make possible suspension of the draft and building a volunteer army for occupation appeared to be the goal of dissenters.

The Senate military affairs committee was called into session to consider the demobilization question. The committe has before it the House-approved May bill which is designed to speed voluntary recruitment.

Sen. Revercomb (R) W. Va., planned to urge the committee to report out his bill providing for one-year voluntary enlistments in the Army of the United States.

"I think the Army plan of release, as disclosed by Gen. Marshall, is needlessly slow," he said. "Only today I was advised that there are 800 boys at Fort Benning, Ga., who are eligible for discharge but who are not being released."

Will Alobish Point System

Marshall told an informal session of the House and Senate that the discharge point system will abolished by late winter when men with two years of service will become eligible for release. In moving toward that goal the discharge score will be lowered to 70 points on October 1 and to 60 points November 1.

Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., declared that a policy on the postwar Army and the question of peace-time draft should be settled speedily.

"I feel that Gen. Marshall is too apprehensive in his figures on demobilization and nothing is said about the postwar Army and draft," Wherry said. "If we can find the answer to these questions then we can tell how many men we will need."

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, chairman of the military affairs committee, expressed a belief, hoxever, that the Army's complete plans will ease the tension in Congress.

"I think we can all write better letters after hearing Gen. Marshall," he said, referring to the flood of letters coming to members from servicemen and parents.

INDIAN RELICS ARE FOUND NEAR PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Two Indian shelters believed to be the first excavated and recorded in the Philadelphia area, are on view at the University Museum giving a comprehensive portrait of the 17th Century Indian and his gayly-bedecked squaw. Three amateur archeologists uncovered the relics of the Indian winter village while digging in picnic grounds on Darby Creek. Among the Indian lore found were arrowheads, corn grinding instruments and pottery fragments.

Twenty-five veterans of World War II held the third meeting of their social club in the city hall Wednesday evening with Gene Schweinsberg as chairman.

Ted Castele was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee which is arranging for a party to be held October 3. Mr. Castele spoke briefly of the value of comradeship which can be derived from joining in a social club.

RADAR WARNS OF PLANE IN REAR

WRIGHT FIELD, O.—(INS)—A radar device installed in the rear of fighter planes protected American pilots from surprise enemy attacks from the rear. Headquarters of the Air Technical Service Command said the device reflected radar pulses which caused a warning bell to ring and a light to flash in the cockpit when another aircraft approached.

Germans Stripped Holland Of Food, People Desperate

H. J. Heinz, 2nd, Returns To Pittsburgh From Tour Of Devastated Holland

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—(INS)—H. J. Heinz, II, president of the Heinz company, today described Holland as a desperately stricken nation of homeless, hungry, ill-clad people.

Heinz landed in Pittsburgh today after a three weeks tour of war-torn Europe.

He told a United War Fund breakfast that the Germans stripped Holland like "a horde of two-legged locusts".

Eighty per cent of the livestock has been killed or taken by the Germans, he said; homes have been cleaned of furniture, clothing, food, cooking utensils and tableware, and only 10 per cent of the normal fruit crop will be harvested.

Orchards Flooded

Their orchards were flooded, Heinz said, and "hundreds of thousands of land mines" are still in the ground.

In the Betuwe district 8,000 people are "living in chicken coops and stables and will live there this winter . . . and 38,000 of the 60,000 people in the Betuwe district have no beds and are sleeping on the ground."

The average Dutch family of three has a ration of less than half a ton of coal "and there isn't a stove in the town because the Germans either destroyed or stole them."

Their food level is 2,100 calories a day, he added, compared with 3,350 for the average American family. The Dutch are getting 3½ ounces of meat a week, six ounces of fat, 3½ ounces of egg powder and seven ounces of sugar. There is an ample suply of bread and potatoes, he said.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—Most interesting thing Capt. Sophie G. Tripodi saw during her tour of duty as flight nurse in Russia was the Moscow subway. "It was done in black and white marble," she said at the AAF redistribution station No. 1 here where she is being processed, "all of it spotlessly clean. And each station is architecturally different."

'Kenny' Patterson Lost In Sinking Of U.S.S. Indianapolis

Message Received This Week Reveals That Local Sailor Listed As Missing Was Killed

Coxswain Kenneth G. "Kenny" Patterson, previously announced as missing in action, following the sinking of the Cruiser Indianapolis, was among the 833 officers and men who were lost when the ship went down in the Pacific on the night of July 30, word received this week by his wife, Mrs. Vera C. Sweet Patterson, and his mother, Mrs. Sara E. Patterson, of 332 East North street reveals.

K. G. Patterson

The Indianapolis was proceeding from Guam to Leyte, when she is believed to have been struck by a Jap submarine, exploding her magazines. Only 215 men of the crew were saved.

Coxswain Patterson was 27 years of age on January 22, and had been in service since February 10, 1944, and in action with the Indianapolis since May 1944. It took part in the action around Okinawa, Tokyo, Iwo Jima, the Aleutians, Gilbert Islands, Tarawa, Marshalls, and Marianas.

It had just delivered parts of the atomic bomb which blasted the Jap homeland, and was enroute from Guam to the Philippines when sunk.

In addition to his wife and mother, he leaves a lttile son, Robert Wayne, a daughter Sharon Lynn having passed away on December 8, 1943. His father, W. J. Patterson also preceded him in death on December 19, 1943. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Arraetta Palmer of this city, and Mrs. Frances Harrison, of Niles, O.

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—Ed Klee of Portland, is one of the few men to emerge from World War II with service in three categories—army, navy and marines. In the Palau Islands, Klee heard that the army was short on medics. He volunteered for temporary duty and worked with an army combat portable surgery unit.

Says Vets Will Solve Their Own Problems

GREELEY, Color.—(INS)—Returning veterans are not "15,000,000 problems, but 14,000,000 helpers."

That was the way Sen. Ed Johnson (D) Colo., summed up the role of war veterans for the Greeley Rotary club recently.

Not only will the veterans make this a "better country," said Sen. Johnson, but they will help solve their own problems.

"We want to help these men get back into business, get back on their feet, but not by making them a class by themselves to receive special favors," declared the Colorado senator.

"The veterans don't want it that way either."

Sen. Johnson said these men have a new slant on their community and their country.

MORAL SENSE GONE

NEW YORK—(INS)—Starvation victims of German political prison camps, even after they have been rescued and fed back to what appears to be normal, have lost their moral sense. Food Industries magazine reports. "Well-fed, though once-starved, physicians who had been entrusted with the care of other still helpless, rescued prisoners, soon had to be replaced because they actually stole their own patients' food. They stole it even though they themselves were on a 4,000-calorie diet," the magazine stated.

Thousands Pledge To Keep Children From Street Play

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21—More than 28,000 Philadelphia parents have signed pledges to keep their children from playing in the streets, it was announced yesterday by Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Keystone Automobile club.

The signing of the pledges is part of the door-to-door "safety sale" campaign being conducted by city children to interest their parents in the project.

Accidents Reduced

Mr. Curran said that a noticeable increase in attendance figures at city playgrounds and recreation centers attested to the sincerity of the signed pledges.

"But," said Mr. Curran, "the outstanding proof of the campaign's success has been the reduction of accidents involving children. Figures up until July 26 show 69 less injury cases compared to the same period in 1944."

"Safety Salesmen"

The safety campaign has been in full swing several weeks with the Board of Education, Philadelphia recreation centers, the Fairmount Park Commission and the Keystone Automobile club participating. Children, acting as "safety salesmen", are given printed messages to take to their parents asking their cooperation.

The compaint alleged Mrs. Pocrass suffered lacerations and contusions of the head and other injuries last October 14 when a metal box fell on her as an employee was removing it from a counter.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—(INS).—Business in the Pittsburgh district last week recovered three-fourths of the sharp drop following the end of hostilities in Japan, the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh, today reported.

The bureau's index stood at 163.4 percent of the 1935-39 average.

Steel mills in the Pittsburgh district operated at about 72 percent of practical capacity, the best in five weeks. Increases were noted in coal production, electric power output and rail and river shipments.

Garden Notes

Remove all dead and dying foliage from the vegetable garden. Asparagus stalks should be cut to the ground, corn stalks pulled out.

Apples, late pears and other fruit intended for winter storing should be hand picked before they fall. Don't store any that have signs of bruises; they will decay.

If you plan to start seeds early next spring, it is a good idea to sieve soil now and store it inside. You'll find this easier than digging and thawing frozen soil.

Trim back parsley almost to the ground. Lift a few roots and pot up, supplying plenty of drainage. Keep in the dark for several days and then bring into the light.

Gather up all garden stakes. Clean soil and pack away. Now is a good time to go over your garden tools and discard all broken ones that are beyond or not worth repairing.

A knowing gardener will not burn a leaf. Instead, he will gather and store them where they will rot and make valuable plant food. Never store them inside, for they might burn.

DeMille Will File Brief In Court Battle On Unions

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21—(INS)—Movie Producer-Director Cecil B. DeMille said today in Pittsburgh that his attorneys would file briefs next week in the California supreme court in his fight to hold a job and refuse to contribute to a political fund.

DeMille said he was "still in favor of unions but wouldn't let them deprive me of my individual freedom".

He was barred from broadcasting because, he said, he wouldn't pay a $1 assessment levied by the American Federation of Radio Artists in the union's battle against the "right to work" amendment to California's constitution.

"I'm trying to get political freedom back in the ranks of the American working man. I'm not anti-union. I know what poverty is. I believe in good wages. I've worked all my life.

"But my citizenship is priceless and I would be giving it up if I allowed anyone to tell me how to vote. That's why I gave up a $100,000-a-year radio show."

DeMille is in Pittsburgh studying the ctiy in preparation for a moving picture which centers around old Fort Pitt.

Ex-State Trooper Has Murder Charge Filed Against Him

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—(INS)—State Police Capt. A. J. Hudock said murder charges will be filed today against William Tevelin, 55, former state trooper, who confessed to the "mercy killing" of his wife.

Captain Hudock said Tevelin was examined by psychiatrists from the Torrance state hospital for 90 minutes yesterday after he repeated his confession, denied it and then repeated the admission.

Tevelin told Scranton Detective Capt. George Donaldson he choked his wife, Ladonna, 31, last January 21, then threw a lighted cigarette on her bed. Tevelin was quoted as saying she had coaxed him to kill her because she feared she had cancer.

Captain Hudock said the murder charge will be filed before Alderman Paul Thomas in Greensburg, where the ex-trooper is being held in Westmoreland county jail.

Feast Of Booths At Tifereth Israel

Sukos-Feast Of Booths Will Be Observed Nine Days By Jewish Faith Here

The ancient Feast of Sukos, or Feast of Booths, will be celebrated for nine days beginning at sundown tonight, by those of the Jewish faith in this ctiy.

This feast was originally a harvest festival and a period of thanksgiving. It is reminiscent of the days when Israelites and other oriental peoples, because of the short harvest season, when fruits and crops had to be gathered speedily, dwelt in booths in the field. It is also a time to recall the fact that the children of Israel dwelt in booths in the wilderness when they journeyed out of Egypt. Their wandering in the wilderness was followed by entrance into the Promised Land—an augury of the Promised Land we hope the nations of the world will now enter if we inaugurate a real era of peace.

Many congregations erect booths in a suitable place in the synagogue and decorate them with fruit and other products of the fall harvest, and many families and synagogues still erect booths for the entire Sukos period. The Book of Ecclesiastes is expressive of the character of the festival. "All may be vanity to some people," says Ecclesiastes, "but to revere God and keep His commandments" is the primary duty of those of the Jewish faith.

It is interesting to realize that the Pilgrim fathers patterned the Thanksgiving Day which we celebrate after this Old Testament harvest festival of thanksgiving. The symbolic fruits of this beautiful feast are the citron, the willow, the myrtle and the palm. With these beautiful works of creation we celebrate God's wisdom and thank Him for His kindness and His mercy will endure forever.

Services at the Tifereth Israel synagogue will be in charge of Rabbi Hyman Krash and will start this evening at 6:45 o'clock. Saturday morning service will be at 8 o'clock and Saturday evening services will be at 7:20 o'clock.

On Sunday morning, final services will be held at 8 o'clock.

Believes Japs Should Be Given Some Tortures

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(INS)—Lieut. Comdr. Samuel A. Newman, of Texas City, Tex., long a Japanese prisoner, declared today that the Japanese should be made to undergo all the tortures that they inflicted on American captives.

Newman was captured by the Japs on Guam and was their prisoner for many months. He was the last American officer to surrender.

Newman told a news conference, in a voice filled with repressed emotion, that he felt extremely bitter against the Japanese.

"If I had my say, I'd put Gen. Wainwright, and others who suffered in their prisons, in charge of the Nips," Newman said. "They'd know how to take care of them."

Newman, a former employee of the Gulf Oil Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., was sent to Guam in July, 1941. Friends in the navy told him at that time, he said, that in six months he would either be dead or a prisoner of the Japanese.

Newman surrendered to the enemy two days after the governor officially capitulated.

Newman said he learned of the American victory over the Japanese radio on August 16, 1945.

"At that point I took over, and started to feed the Japs what they had been feeding us," Newman said. "I distributed their food amongst my men and in a couple of days the navy started dropping food and messages to us."

They were rescued August 30 by a naval group commanded by Comdr. Harold Stassen and taken aboard a hospital ship.

Forecasters Prove Twain Was Wrong

SCOTT FIELD, Ill., Sept. 21—(INS)—Mark Twain's saying that "everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it," may have been worded differently if he had ever seen weather observers and forecasters in action at Scott Field.

The base weather station does everything about the weather except make it take a change for the better.

Observing and forecasting weather for pilots is the main job of Scott Field's weathermen, members of the staff are on constant duty, day and night.

Every six hours, new maps are drawn as the weather station receives reports from every weather station in North America. About ten different types of maps are made, some drawn every six hours, day or night, and the others plotted twice a day.

Rep. Kuntson (R) Minn., ranking majority leader, said the vote against the proposal, advanced by the Republicans, was 11 to 10, on straight party lines.

Hitler Fired His Physician In Last Days

Accused Doctor Of Trying To Dope Him With Morphine, Says Physician

By GEORGE W. HERALD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 21.—Adolf Hitler fired his personal physician, Dr. Franz Morell nine days before the fall of Berlin, accusing the doctor of trying to dope him with morphine "so that the generals could whisk him away to Berchtesgaden in his sleep."

This is one of the facts disclosed by Dr. Morell in an interview with a correspondent of the French newspaper "Alsace," which has brought to light a number of new details of Hitler's private life and last days.

Stout baldish Herr Dr. Morell is a 55-year-old gynecologist who gave up his fashionable practice nine years ago to devote himself exclusively to the task of keeping Adolf Hitler in fair shape. American troops arrested him in Berchtesgaden after the armistice and put him in a jail near Salzburg where he is now waiting for the disposition of his case.

"I am glad that Hitler dismissed me," Dr. Morell said. "If I had not been fired, I probably would have been burned to death."

Gave Hitler Injections

The doctor confirmed that he gave Hitler glucose injections every day during the dramatic week of April 15-21 in the chancellery shelter in Berlin.

"I stayed there with Hitler, Eva Braun, a surgeon and their servants all of whom had officer's rank" he explained. "Neither Himmler nor Goebbels nor Bormann nor any general were with us. The shelter was strictly reserved for Hitler and his personal suite until the end."

Asked whether Hitler was desperate at that time and whether he carried poison on him, Dr. Morell answered:

"Not as far as I know. He seemed to believe until the end that his armies east of Berlin would hold out or that he could make a last-minute deal with the Anglo-Americans against the Russians."

"And what happened right at the end?"

Wanted Him To Leave

"The generals wanted him to leave Berlin for Berchtesgaden, and Himmler had the same idea. But Hitler refused. On Saturday, April 21, he was very depressed and, since he was to hold an important meeting in the evening, I wanted to give him a caffain shot. He stopped me and turned furious. He told me he knew I was going to give him a morphine injection."

"Did he think you wanted to kill him?"

"No, just to put him asleep so that the generals could seize him and transport him to Berchtesgaden by force. I protested that this was not true. He shouted: 'Do you think I am a lunatic?'"

"Did he say a 'lunatic' or a 'fool'?"

"He said 'wahnsinnig', that means 'lunatic'. I was ordered to leave the same day. I took a plane from Gatow air field to Berchtesgaden together with 11 other members of Hitler's household. I never saw the fuehrer again."

United States Enacts New Role As Conqueror

Nation Almost Completely Lacking In Experience As Conqueror

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(I. N. S. Foreign Editor)

Differences of opinion between the American State Department and Gen. Douglas MacArthur over the military administration of Japan served today to underscore a historical phenomenon.

This is the almost complete lack of experience on the part of the United States in playing the role of conqueror.

No other major nation in the entire world has spent three centuries of its existence without imposing its will upon a defeated enemy. No other country ever went so long without an aggressive or militaristic foreign policy.

It should occasion no surprise, therefore, that the state department at Washington should register astonishment over some of the measures taken or not taken by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Washington simply has no precedents to draw upon.

Blazing New Trail

The Pacific conqueror, like Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Germany before him, is blazing a virgin trail in American policy and even his severest critics would have to admit they have far less first-hand knowledge of what can and must be done than he possesses.

There is little wonder that the world at large always has regarded the United States with amazement, as sort of a corporate monstrosity in the family of nations.

It never has lost a war, but until now never has dictated a peace. Obviously, other nations, battle-hardened and rarely if ever involved in war for humanitarian reasons, know far better how to dictate terms to a defeated enemy.

About the only time the United States showed any real tendency to use the whip-lash was after the Spanish-American war. That led to some expansionism which gave us Purto Rica, liberated Cuba from the Spanish yoke and established a protectorate over the Philippines.

War Records

The Revolution gave Americans only what they were entitled to, and the same held true for the War of 1812. Expeditions against Mexico and Nicaragua merely demonstrated that the United States would not tolerate brigandage on or near its own frontiers.

But even though Spain's naval power was crushed in 1898 and her empire demolished, no American troops took the royal palace in Madrid and no occupational army was sent to the Iberian Peninsula to preserve a peace that had been hard-won.

By every word and gesture, Gen. MacArthur has made it amply clear that Japan has been knocked out beyond hope of resuscitation.

That job was done, not by the state department, but by the United States Army, Navy and Air Force. And it was accomplished with such outstanding success simply because men like MacArthur for decades past recognized the menace of Japan when civilians did not.

After all, it was not for nothing that Gen. MacArthur built the Philippine constabulary out of unarmed natives and a mighty garrison from sticks and stones. His purpose surely never has been to promote the Japanese war machine.

King Puts Chill On The Windsors

LONDON, Sept. 21. — American authorities, evidently acting on word from high places, moved to make sure that the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor off England will not look official.

By request of "high levels," reported to be Buckingham Palace, officialdom saw to it that the passage of the Duke and Duchess through Plymouth Harbor will be treated informally as no affair of state.

A Brief Stop-over

The former King and his Duchess will put in briefly at Plymouth. They are aboard the Argentina, operated by the U. S. Army as a transport, bound for France.

The American Army public relations office issued a statement saying that access to the Argentina "will not be provided by the U. S. Army," and in effect that if reporters wanted to see the Duke that was their problem.

Unwanted Scabbards Now Prize Package

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—One thousand leather rifle scabbards, which went begging when ofered for sale by the Office of Surplus Property, became a prize package when someone in the New England office applied a little Yankee ingenuity.

First the scabbards were offered to the leather industry without any takers. Then a commodity specialist decided to do a little reconversion project.

He removed the side stitching and presto—he had two and a third square feet of the finest sole leather, leather which hasn't been available since Pearl Harbor.

Now the former scabbards with enough leather for almost six thousand pair of women's shoe soles, are expected to bring a tidy little sum.

YES, BUT THAT'S BEING DIFFICULT!

DALLAS, Tex. —(INS)—Lightnin', an aged negro who sacks eggs in a Dallas grocery store, doesn't know how many eggs there are in a dozen but he gets a dozen in each sack anyway. "I can count up to nine," said Lightnin', "then I just add three more eggs."

Filling Stations In Cleveland And Toledo Hit

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Filling stations in Cleveland and Toledo began to close today as spread of the strike of the CIO-Oil Workers International Union of Ohio closed six refineries and disrupted deliveries from bulk stations.

Clyde Shamblen, secretary of Local 346 of the union in Toledo, predicted that Ohio and seven other states in which 25,000 workers were striking would experience a gasoline shortage within 48 hours. An estimated four thousand union members were on strike in Ohio.

City officials were attempting to assure sufficient supplies for emergency use of fire and police vehicles, doctors and other essential consumers.

Samuel Sherman of Mattapan, Mass., opened a bag he found on a street and was surprised to find that it contained 3900 pennies.

According to the Roman writer, Pliny, boats were invented in Egypt and were first made of papyrus.

BRITISH BUILD ISLANDS TO BE FUELING STATIONS

LONDON—(INS)—British scientists have made a number of floating islands on which aircraft can land and refuel. Built of hexagonal steel pontons and hinged to ride the waves, these islands are 700 feet long and 90 feet wide. So far, two of these are in experimental use but aircraft have not used them yet during rough weather. When more stability has been achieved these floating dromes will form a pattern of things to come in the Atlantic air service.

Air Markers Will Be Painted, But Where?

Letters to mark the town for the benefit of fliers will be painted, as announced before, but not on the roof of the City Hall, says Director of Public Property Joseph Alexander.

According to the directions received by the city, the letters of the town's name must be seven feet high by five feet wide, and the numbers giving the longitude and latitude are only slightly smaller. Besides the name and the numbers, a long, thin arrow must point due north, and a short, squat arrow must point toward the airport, with another number giving the number of miles to the field. A building much larger than the City Hall must be used for this marking, concludes the councilman.

The color, incidentally, is not specified except that it must be clearly seen from the air.

Gen. Devers For Supreme Command Of American Forces

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 21.—(INS)—Streamlining military procedure and cutting red tape are standard policies with Gen. Jacob L. Devers, who recently succeeded Gen. John W. Stilwell as commander of army ground forces.

During homecoming celebrations staged in his honor at Charlotte and Fayetteville, N. C., Devers said he favored a combination of the army, navy and air forces under one supreme command as a surer means of unifying their activities.

The new ground force chief served as commanding officer at Fort Bragg, N. C., during eight months of 1940 and 1941.

Throughout his 36 years of military service, including his recent command of the Sixth Army group in its conquest of Bavaria, Devers' policy has been to work with small staffs, avoiding cumbersome details.

Teamwork is his watchword. His fighting methods emphasize quick thrusts with speed and power, surprise and fast movement with plenty of fire power to back them up.

When experts told General Devers he couldn't get through the Vosges mountains, "because Napoleon couldn't do it and nobody has ever done it," he replied with "that's why we're going to do it." And they did, in the middle of winter.

Expressing regret that he can not predict exactly when American soldiers will be able to return home from Europe, he says that it should be comforting to relatives to realize that the GIs in Europe are "well-fed, well-clothed, and well taken care of."

Modestly, General Devers lays no claim to winning the war. He merely says, "I am proud to have been there."

Congress Hopes For More Speed In Demobilization

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Members of congress were quick to laud Gen. George C. Marshall's outline of demobilization plan Thursday but were undecided if his presentation could quell congress' deep disturbance over the problem.

Sen. Capper (R) Kans., declared: "We received more information today than we did in all the sessions of congress. I feel that in the light of what I heard, that demobilization is going to be all right."

Rep. Henshaw (R) Calif., however, said: "That isn't going to take the head off unless the whole story is told to the public. Selective service wasn't discussed at all."

Other comment included:

Rep. Patman (D) Tex., "I feel today's presentation will quell the unrest of congress. What it comes down to is, 'shall we take the man with little service and no combat experience and put him ahead of the man who has undergone hardships?'"

Rep. Luce (R) Conn., "I had already concluded that Gen. Marshall was doing his very best to secure the release of as many men as possible consistent with our foreign commitments."

Faculty Members And Male Students Plan For Program

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 21.—Books and classroom decorum will be laid aside next Monday night when men faculty members at Westminster college compete with male students in a variety of games in the college gym. The event is aimed at getting students better acquainted with their teachers and with each other.

For the more active members of the faculty, there will be competition in ping pong, volleyball, badminton and basketball foul shooting. For those who desire mental rather than physical action there will be chess, checkers and crocinole.

If the affair is a success, others will be scheduled, according to Wayne Christy, faculty chairman. He is assisted by Donld L. Barbe.

NEW WILMINGTON LEGION WILL MEET

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 21.—New Wilmington Post 729 of the American Legion will hold its regular meeting in the high school at 8 o'clock Monday. Officers for the new year will be elected. A meeting of the American Legion auxiliary is also scheduled at the same time.

PLAN GOOD MEALS FOR CHILDREN IN SCHOOL

Every child needs three good meals a day if he is to grow into a healthy, happy person. A good evening meal cannot make up for a poor breakfast or a skimpy noon lunch.

Every child should start the day with a good breakfast. Orange, grapefruit, or tomato juice, whole grain cereal or egg or both, whole wheat or enriched bread, and milk will help keep the child from getting tired, cross and restless before noon. Some children feel they cannot eat such a hearty breakfast. This is often because they have had enough sleep or do not allow enough time for eating breakfast.

A good noon meal, whether carried in a lunch box or eaten at home, should include a protein food—meat, egg, cheese, or poultry, one or more vegetables, a fruit, milk, whole grain or enriched bread, and a sweet. At least one hot food helps digestion and makes the meal more interesting. If the noon lunch is eaten at school, this hot food may be carried in a thermos bottle, or in a jar and heated at school, or provided by the school. If the noon meal is too light, children often lunch when they get home and thus spoil their appetite for a good supper.

If the seven basic food groups are kept in mind when planning the evening meal, the child will be sure to get all the needed foods. A good supper might include a protein food, potato if not eaten at noon, a vegetable or fruit or both, bread, milk, and dessert.

Recent studies show that if one meal is very light or omitted entirely, the child seldom gets all the needed foods even though the other meals are ample.

LAVISH GI GIVES $3,620 FOR JUST ONE CHINESE MEAL

ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)—Sgt. Alfred Eaton wrote his mother from China he felt like a millionaire when he spent $3,620 for a single meal consisting of ham, eggs and coffee. The catch is that he paid for the meal in Chinese dollars—the equivalent of about three dollars in American currency. One egg costs $100 in Chinese money, or about ten cents.

Age Of Victorious U. S. Generals In War Averaged 51.4

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The 1,539 generals who led the United States to victory over the Axis had an average age of 51.4 years, with the majority of them in the 50 to 54 group, a survey conducted by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., has revealed.

Almost 35 percent of them were under 50, a slightly higher proportion fell in the 50 to 54 group, and an additional 20 percent were in the age period 55 to 59 years. Less than two percent were 65 years or over.

Four generals of the army averaged 60.5 years, with Dwight D. Eisenhower, former supreme Allied commander in Europe, the yougest at 54 and Douglas MacArthur, supreme Allied commander for Japan, the oldest at 65. Henry H. Arnold, commanding general of the army air forces, is 59 and George C. Marshall, chief of staff, is 64.

Among the brigadier generals who constitute 70 percent of the total number, the average age as of July 1, was 50.3 years. The average age of full generals was 56.6 years, lieutenant-generals, 55.3, and major-generals, 53.5.

The survey showed also that the average age of the 322 generals in the army air forces were just under 47 years, or four and a half years below the average for the army as a whole.

West Washington Street Soldier, Wounded On March 18, Cited For Heroic Action

Word has been received by Mrs. Betty Horchler from her husband, Pvt. Fred M. Horchler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elon Horchler of R. D. 2, stating that he has been awarded the silver star medal for valor in action.

No copy of the citation has as yet been received by his family here, but the action in which he distinguished himself occurred on the Kyll river, Germany, at the time he was wounded, for a "little job", he modestly writes.

Pvt. Horchler was serving with the 10th infantry division of the third army. He has been in service since July, 1944 and went overseas at Christmas time. He has also been awarded the Purple Heart medal and good conduct medal.

A brother, Pvt. Elon A. Horchler, was killed in action on November 28, 1944, while serving with the seventh army in France.

Pvt. Horchler has three boys, who with his wife and parents are eagerly looking forward to his return home.

Jury Finds No Negligence In Death Of Four

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Sept. 21—(INS)—A coroner's jury found no negligence involved in an automobile-gas truck accident which brought death to four Philipsburg high school boys, August 28.

The jury, after an inquest last night, found that "due to the condition of lights, we, the jury, find that neither party was negligent. Witnesses on each side testified that the light was green when they crossed. We, the undersigned, after examining the light, find that this was possible."

The accident occurred at a street intersection in Philipsburg. The gasoline truck immediately burst into flames after the crash.

The inquest was held in the Philipsburg State hospital where the jury heard testimony by Edward Shingledecker, 16, injured in the accident. The truck driver and one other boy, who were injured, have been released from the hospital.

Confirmation Of Patterson Recommended

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—The Senate military affairs committee today unanimously recommended confirmation of Robert P. Patterson to be secretary of war and W. Stuart Symington to be surplus war property administrator.

Committee approval of Patterson's elevation from undersecretary of war to full cabinet rank and of Symington's nomination as the new single administrator of surplus property came at a session which then turned to the controversial question of army demobilization.

The committee, members said, was discussing pending legislation to enlistments in the post-war army. This included the House-approved May bill and a similar measure offered by Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, committee chairman.

Patterson is succeeding the veteran statesman, Henry L. Stimson, as secretary of war. Symington, a former St. Louis banker, becomes surplus property administrator, replacing the three-member surplus property board of which he has been chairman since mid-summer.

Rev. U. S. Munnerlyn, pastor of the Second Baptist church, officiated. Mrs. Merle Morton, of Wheatland, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Mr. Davis, the bride's father, was best man. The couple left for a short honeymoon in Pittsburgh before the groom will leave Saturday to report to his station in New York. Mrs. Bertha Lewis, of Sharon, was a guest at the wedding.

Asserts Dewey's Silence, Act Of Great Patriotism

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell Jr., said flatly today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey could have won the 1944 presidential elections if he had revealed "The colossal mal-administration that caused Pearl Harbor".

Brownell said that the Republicans "intended to disclose the truth about Pearl Harbor insofar as we had been able to find out the facts which were being concealed by the New Deal administration".

"Our information indicated, among other things, shocking lack of co-ordination," he declared, "between the president, the State department and the armed services leading up to the tragedy of Pearl Harbor.

Silent To Aid War Effort

"In consulting Gov. Dewey about the use of the Pearl Harbor data, I learned that he had received under dramatic circumstances, two confidential letters from Gen. Marshall which warranted that disclosure during the war of the story of Pearl Harbor might well disclose to the Japs that our government intelligence service had cracked Japan's most secret code which was still extensively used and from which we were getting vital information.

"I understood that Gen. Marshall indicated that it was the reasoned opinion of Adm. King and himself that such disclosures would seriously impede the war effort and might well imperil, if not sacrifice, untold American lives.

"We were well aware that if Gov. Dewey disclosed during the campaign the colossal mal-administration which caused Pearl Harbor, the voters would respond by sweeping out of office the responsible party or parties.

"In the face of this, Gov. Dewey decided and told me that he would not use the Pearl Harbor data because he believed in Gen. Marshall's integrity and he would rather be defeated for president than to risk or sacrifice needlessly the life of a single American boy. I told him I concurred in his decision.

"In my opinion Gov. Dewey acted with great patriotism and with a degree of courage unparalleled in American public life."

WIND UNCOVERS "SUNKEN CITY"

BEND, Ore.—(INS)—Oregon's fantastic "sunken city" deep in the dry bed of Thorne "Lake" is growing as the years roll by and should be quite a spectacle 100 years from now. As the desert breeze clears more silt away, the strange criss-crossing walls come into bolder relief, making tourists wonder if some ancient city was actually there.

Harrisburg Theatres Seek Sunday Shows

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—(INS)—The Harrisburg Theater Managers' association was ready today to carry its fight for Sunday motion pictures to the state supreme court in order to overturn a Dauphin county court order barring the question from the ballot in the election November 6.

Homer L. Kreider, counsel, said he had filed an appeal with the appellate court and that the case was listed for hearing in Pittsburgh September 24.

The lower court tossed out petitions seeking a Sunday movie referendum because many signatures were invalid. The Dauphin County Federation of Men's Bible Classes initiated the battle against Sunday movies.

Split Legislation For Seaway Project

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—A plan to split legislation for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway—one for development of the seaway and the other for the construction of hydro electric power plants—is being studied by high officials and members of Congress.

This became known today after the White House disclosed that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, had sent a telegram to President Truman reportedly protesting against the administration's plans for development of the St. Lawrence.

Attitude On Strenuous Life Changing Somewhat Says City Health Officer

Open the window wide, take three deep breaths and do five push-ups. Then relax and learn that maybe you're just wasting your time.

"Oh no," shivers the fresh-air fiend, his teeth chattering in the cold autumn gales that sweep through his bedroom. "This is the way to health and long life."

It probably won't hurt him if he's used to it, says City Health Officer Dr. W. A. Womer, but it's probably not especially beneficial. Medical science has long cocked a quizzical eye at the outdoor-life extremists, although fresh air has been regarded as essential to recovery from tuberculosis.

Circulation Counts

"The average room, with air circulating normally, seems to be easily as healthy as the sleeping porches which everyone was building in the 1920's. Under normal conditions, there is sufficient oxygen in any room—what matters, then, is the movement of the air. If a room is stuffy, turn a fan on and see how the circulation gives a feeling of freshness."

Cleanness of the air is important, Dr. Womer emphasizes. If the room is dusty, turning the fan on will just stir up the dust and scatter it around, or if the air is dusty outside, opening the window isn't going to help matters any.

Living out of doors is another consideration. What about the enthusiast who, after a busy week, rushes out to the country where he spend a strenuous week-end doing everything from golfing to milking cows and building fires for outdoor meals. If he returns to his work physically exhausted he may have done himself more harm than good, the health officer pointed out. If he returns mentally relaxed and strengthened, the week-end was probably worthwhile, whether it did him any good physically or not.

Go Ahead, If You Like It

"In fact, psychology has a big part in any choice of this sort," Dr. Womer continues. "If you sleep better with a cool breeze blowing through the room, by all means open your window wide; and if you like the room snug and cozy, you need just enough circulation to keep the room from being stuffy without wasting the heat coming from your radiator."

As for the exercise part of the outdoor life, the relaxation which comes from varied activity or from enjoyment of games is probably the biggest benefit to be obtained, asserts Dr. Womer. Granted that everyone needs exercise, it now seems rather silly for a person engaged in work calling for skillful craftsmanship to take the physical training calculating to harden a man for football or boxing.

"Exercise for a violinist may not be what a swimmer would call exercise at all. Big biceps may not be an indication of health," said the health officer, becoming more specific. "The point is just that we are not nearly as dogmatic as we used to be about the benefits of "the strenuous life". In fact, there may be a lot of good derived from a stroll through an art gallery as well as from a hike through the woods."

SQUIRE IS HELD TO FACE COURT

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21—(INS)—Squire Stephen Marcus, Glassport justice of the peace, was under $1000 bond today to appear in court to face charges of misconduct in office in connection with the alleged antedating of a marriage license application.

Marcus was charged wtih antedating by four days a marriage license application for Seaman William R. Baker, Jr., and Elva Towzey, Clairton. Alderman A. M. Maloney held Marcus for trial after a hearing.

David M. Houston, marriage license bureau clerk, testified that the application "met all our requirements and the license was issued."

Baker contradicted Marcus' claim that Baker had forgot his change saying:

"There was no forgetting any change. Marcus told me the fee was $10 and I paid him."

The legal fee is $4.

PRICE CONTROLS MUST BE KEPT

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—(INS)—Chester Bowles, head of the Office of Price Administration, today envisioned a disastrous depression following a temporary 1946 business boom unless price controls are continued throughout the reconversion period.

Addressing 1000 business men at a dinner of the National Industrial Conference Board, Bowles predicted a 25 billion dollar reduction in the national income and nine million unemployed next year if industrial prices are permitted to rise, with an "inevitable" collapse that would shake the country's economic foundation.

MASS PRODUCTION OF FORMALDEHYDE

SPRINGFIELD, Ore.—(INS)—The first large scale production of formaldehyde on the Pacific Coast will begin with the construction of a new plant at Springfield by the Casein Company of America. The new plant will produce one million pounds of formaldehyde monthly. The chemical is essential in the production of synthetic resins and plastics.

The 1945 West Virginia leislature enacted a law which permits service men home on leave to hunt and fish in the state without licenses. Leave or furlough papers may be shown game protectors in lieu of regularly issued licenses.

FLORIDA RATES IN CATTLE, TOO

KISSIMMEE, Fla.—(INS)—Besides producing a mob of tourists each winter, Florida also has found time to further its cattle industry. Ranking 28th among the 48 states in number of cattle, the Sunshine State had over a million and a half head of cattle on hand at the first of this year according to U. S. Department of Agriculture figures released recently. In beef cattle production, Florida ranks 15th.

College Football Teams Ready For Big 1945 Season

At Least 24 Major College Football Teams Will Open On Saturday

FAVOR ILLINOIS TO DEFEAT PITT

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Having made its customary grimaces, false starts, and flourishes, the 1945 college football season is all set to make its debut in earnest tomorrow, when at least 24 major elevens will see action throughout the country.

And having selected Alexis in the Kentucky Derby, Pittsburgh in the National League, and the Browns in the American, this department is all set to preserve its remarkable batting average throughout the coming pigskin year.

Of the big games listed for tomorrow, only a couple look like sncoins. Texas Christian, boasting a combination of Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien in a new freshman tailback Yclept Leon Joslin, should have little trouble subduing Kansas. And Villanova, a dark horse entry which lists such mighties as Army, Navy, Marquette, and Holy Cross on its 1945 agenda, should breeze to a three or four-touchdown conquest at the expence of Bucknell.

Wolverines Favored

Picking Michigan over Indiana just because the Wolverines toppled Great Lakes, 27-2, last week, is not exactly a piece of flawless reasoning. But Fritz Crisler's operatives augur well for '45. Look for them to down the Hoosiers tomorrow, but not by much.

Great Lakes is booked with Wisconsin at the giant North Chicago Naval Base tomorrow, and Great Lakes, it would seem, just ain't got what it takes this year. Wisconsin.

Illinois ought to dump Pittsburgh without too much undue exertion. Marquette has a bunch of scrappers this year, as always, but its doubtful whether they've got the reserve strength to match Purdue. Looks like the Boilermakers via the power route tomorrow.

A flip of the dear old centime, and heads says Northwestern over Iowa State. Another flip says Syracuse over Big Ed McKeever's game but talent-lacking Cornell operatives.

Gophers To Win

Look for a giant crowd up Minneapolis way to watch Missouri, class of the Big Six, tangle with Minnesota, picking 'em on reputation only—Minnesota, by a hair.

The U. of California looks to have the stuff to down St. Mary's in Berkley, Southern Cal. over U.C.L.A.

Sure thing betters say Duke over South Carolina. Long shot says Duke over S. C. in a violent walk-away. Beeg score, and all that.

Couple of games tonight: The Geese on Capitol Hill say Colorado College to topple Denver, Mississippi over Kentucky.

Others tomorrow: Southern Methodist in a romp over the Eagle Mountain Marines; Case over Baldwin Wallace; Texas over Bergstrom Field; Texas A & M easily over the NTAC; Tulsa yes, Wichita no; Virginia in a close one over the Coast Guard.

ALTOONA OPENS SATURDAY

The Altoona High School football team will open the 1945 season at Altoona Saturday by playing Pittsburgh South High. The following Saturday Altoona battles Westinghouse High of Pittsburgh and then takes on New Castle at Altoona on Saturday October 6 in a day-game.

Woodchuck Season Ends September 30

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21—(INS)—Hunters were reminded today by the State Game Commission the 1945 woodchuck season will end September 30.

Director Seth Gordon said woodchuck hunters "have had some of the best sport this year than they have had for a number of years." He explained that farmers in the northern tier counties were inviting sportsmen to hunt on their lands because of an abundance of the animals.

Ellwood Honors Baseball Champs

Manufacturers Division Of Chamber Of Commerce Give County Champions Dinner

FIFTY PRESENT AT SPLENDID AFFAIR

(Special to The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 21.—Ellwood City paid homage last night to the Ellwood City Boosters baseball club, 1945 champions of the Lawrence County baseball league at a chicken dinner held in the Moose Club with 50 in attendance. The dinner was given by the Manufacturers Division of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce, with Denny Schill, secretary, acting as toastmaster.

The dinner began at 6:30 o'clock with Dominic Mundo, leading in singing the "Star Spangled Banner". The meal consisted of fried chicken and all the trimmings well put together by Tony Tino and his assistants. It was a real meal and one that whetted the appetites to the fullest.

Short Speaking Program

Denny Schill assumed the role of toastmaster and called on the following for short talks: Burgess Clyde Houk, of Ellwood; Dr. H. E. Helling, chairman of the Playground Commission; Alec Samuels, president of the Lawrence County baseball league; Charles P. "Bugs" Walther, secretary of the league and News sports writer; Charles Cox, city editor of the Ellwood City Ledger; Dominic Mundo, co-manager of the Ellwood team, and Dick Friedhoff co-manager of the Ellwood team.

Representing almost every organization in Ellwood, and acknowledging introductions were the following: Loyal Order of Moose, Bill Voight; Vets of Foreign Wars, Bob Hodgson; Elks Club, Maurie Phelps; Shelby Social Club, Martin Kovach, Sing MacDonald, Joe Smith and Joe Novolio; Workingman's Social Club, Nick Varrati; Rotary Club, Dave Jones; Kiwanis Club, Lawrence Barnhart; Lions Club, Harold Rodgers; B'Nai B'Rith, Gebe Lebowitz; United Steel Workers No. 1220, Martin Kovach; S.S.K.U. Verein, Fred Gregor; American Legion, Commander Carl Shirley; Fraternal Order of Eagles, Paul Riley and Frank Polholsky; Dapper Dans Club, Mike Edleman; Gene Bleakney, streets and parks supervisor; and Charley Frey, Ellwood booster.

Will Get Jackets

The men were gathered to honor the young men of Ellwood who gave the town its first championship in the revived county league. Denny Schill announced that each player would receive a jacket from the Manufacturers Division of the Chamber of Commerce. The young men were praised to the skies for their achievement in winning the pennant.

The men were then entertained by a floor show MC'd by Sonny Joy. The dinner ended with Mundo again leading in singing "God Bless America".

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP JOE LOUIS and No. 1 challenger Billy Conn appeared in exhibitions in Pittsburgh the other night but they gave the program the real punch. . . . "It's a good thing the Dodgers won't win the National League pennant," says Nilly Niles, the office wit. "If they had," the gal says, "too big a crowd would worm its way into the ball parks to see Trout hook up with Herring in a mound duel and a whale of a battle might ensue." Yeah, Nilly, you bait! . . . Tin Pan Alley, seven-year-old horse now running at Randall Park race track, has won 13 out of 14 races at the track in the last two years. There's one nag the owners won't sell for a song. . . . Pedro Ortego Chavarris, Mexican boxer, recently filed a complaint in federal court in Mexico City charging the Cuban boxer, Kid Galivan, defeated him only because he used an eye-irritating powder on his gloves. Knockout drops, no doubt!

Jeff Heath, Indian outfielder, has a good chance to win the A. L. batting title if he gets in enough games. . . . He began the season late, however, and may not wind up with the necessary 400 times at bat. . . . The Yanks have hit 83 homers as against 64 hit against 'em. . . . Johnny Murphy, ex-Yank relief twirler, now is employed by a chemical firm. . . . Joe DiMaggio has played 85 games while in the service. . . . During their home stay, the Cubs won 12 and lost five. . . . Two of the Reds' three catchers have served as managers. . . . Johnny Riddle was boss of the Birmingham Barons and Al Unser piloted teams at Winston-Salem and Gastonia, N. C. . . . Don Ross, Tribe infielder, has played first, third, short and the outfield. . . . Emil Verban, Cardinal infielder, has hit only 11 home runs in 10 years in the majors. . . . Dixie Walker is a native of Villa Rica, Ga. . . . Hank Borowy won the only world series games he pitched. . . . Oscar Grimes of the Yanks batted .376 in his first season in pro ball and only once since has he passed the .300 mark.

If you've seen Notre Dame play, you've seen Mike, the Irish terrier who has been mascot for the Irish for 10 years. You won't see Mike any more, for Mike's dead. The dog was 11 years old. He was to be buried under the stands in the Notre Dame stadium. . . . Ohio State's grid team, defending champion in the Western Conference loop, opens its season September 29 in a game against Missouri at Columbus. . . . The Bucks, undefeated in nine games last season, are again coached by Carroll Widdoes, former assistant to Paul Brown. . . . The Bucks have 13 lettermen back, including Thornton Dixon from the 1941 squad, Bud Kessler, from the 1943 team, and Paul Sarringhaus, star back of the 1942 eleven. . . . Heaviest gent on the squad is Russ Thomas, a tackle, who weighs 222 pounds. . . . Capt. Bill Hackett, on the bench, may be the key to the Bucks' chances. . . . Football, September 29, Illinois at Notre Dame.

Tigers And Cubs Both Defeated In Crucial Contests

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Regardless of which clubs win the major league pennants, St. Louis is the only one of the four contenders in the two circuits that looks like a champion in the closing days of the race.

While the Cardinals last night recovered gamely from their errors of the previous evening and took the rubber contest of the three-game series from the Cubs by a 2 to 0 score, both Detroit and Washington continued to look bad. The Tigers were routed again by Cleveland, 6 to 1, and the Nats muffed the opportunity of a lifetime in losing to the Yankees by the same score.

May Back In

The Tigers now have lost three in a row. If they win the pennant, they will do it by the inglorious method of backing into it.

The Cubs have two more games to play with St. Louis, they have beaten the Cards only five times out of 20 this season. If Chicago does capture the flag, it will mark the first time in the league's history that a pennant winner failed to win at least eight games from a rival club.

However, the Tigers remained one game ahead of the Senators, who were unable to make any headway against Joe Page, Yankee southpaw. The Nats looked completely listless. The Yanks now have beaten them nine times in their last ten meetings.

Braves Top Dodgers

If the Senators win all four of their remaining games, Detroit must take four out of six to tie them and five out of six to beat them out.

Rookie Randy Heflin of the Red Sox held the Philadelphia Athletics to six hits and blanked them 2 to 0, sweeping the series for Boston.

In the only other game played, the Boston Braves shaded Brooklyn, 3 to 2.

Speculate On Site For Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21—(INS)—Old Dame Gossip held sway in Philadelphia sports circles today with the rumor that the return Joe Louis-Billy Conn world's heavyweight championship bout may be held in the Quaker City.

Tongues started wagging after it was disclosed that one of Promoter Mike Jacobs' underlings asserted "it's a distinct possibility that the fight won't be held in New York."

Ross Crowned Shenango Champ

Nickie Ross Defeats Don Latimer For Shenango Pottery Title Wednesday Evening

Not content with managing the city championship basketball team and starring on the city softball champ outfit, Nickie Ross added the golf championship of Shenango Pottery to his trophy shelf by upsetting Don Latimer 5 up and 3 to go at the Castle Hills course on Wednesday evening.

Latimer had been installed as the favorite after he had fought his way through the top half of the draw and had shot a 39 to edge out Dom Morgan and then go an extra hole to edge out Bus Davis in the semi-finals. But Latimer had an off day and Ross shot a 6 over par round to clinch the crown early.

Thirty-two golfers competed in the match play tournament which was held up considerably by the wet weather. A banquet and field day is being planned for the near future at which time cash prizes will be awarded to the finalists and also to the winners in the team competition. The Cups and Bowls fought it out for three weeks before the Cups finally broke the deadlock and scored a 3 to 1 victory. The Cups were captained by Eddie Garner and included Loyal Kerr, C. N. Shellito, Tony Pia, Harold Sanders, John Byers and Wayne Thompson.

Ellwood Plays At Rochester

Ellwood Wolverines Begin Defense Of Beaver Valley Championship Tonight

JACK DESPORT AT QUARTERBACK

(Special to The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 21.—A journey to the lair of the Rochester Ram tonight marks the opening of Ellwood City High school's Beaver Valley grid campaign and the second post on the Wolverine's W.P.I.A.L. double A card. The tussle will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Using a double wingback setup with a balanced line, the Rams have tripped Newell, West Virginia, 37-0 and tied Midland 0-0. On the other hand Ellwood has downed Farrell 6-0, and Zelienople 37-6.

Last year the Blue and White defeated Rochester for the first time in three years by a 26-7 score. In 1943, the Rams downed Ellwood 12-6, and in 1942 with Phil Colella carrying the brunt of the attack, 26-7.

Desport At Quarter

Eugene Luxenberg and Willie DiAmio will fill the right halfback and fullback posts, respectively, while Jack Desport takes up his old position of quarterback in the only lineup changes announced by Coach Howard Gills.

Rochester, tutored by Earl Ewing, is built around Roger, a hard hitting fullback. A heavy but slow Rochtester line hampers the style of the fullback, however.

The lineups:

Ellwood City.		Rochester.
Young	L.E.	Bush
Cartwright	L.T.	Carcaise
Chiaro	L.G.	Rubbo
Konyak	C	Swagger
Fehl	R.G.	McLaughlin
Paglia	R.T.	Collins
Chesko	R.E.	McElhaney
Desport	Q.	Pierce
Miller	L.H.	Doyle
Luxenberg	R.H.	Gomery
DiAmico	F.	Roger

Second Has Edge Over Epworth 3-2

Bob Palmer And George Stitzinger Play Deciding Match This Evening

Second U.P. defeated Epworth last night in the championship play-offs at Castle Hills 3 to 2, but the championship will not be decided until tonight when Bob Palmer of Second U.P. team battles George Stitzinger of Epworth, in a postponed match.

Second is assured of a tie in the third playoff match, and a possible victory as the pressure is strictly on Stitzinger who must defeat Palmer tonight to tie the matches up again at 3-3. Palmer has already defeated Stitzinger once and tied one match in the playoffs to date.

In the matches last night—Fred Palmer defeated Jimmy Dart 1 up in a gruelling match on the 18th green, Paul Hunt defeated Ellsworth Palmer 2 up; Jimmy Ludwig defeated Bud Smith 2 up; Bob Houk defeated Andy Anderson 3 and 2; Newell Kelly defeated Henry M Dell 2 up. All matches were hard fought and interesting.

Foxx Offered Job In Boston

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Phillies General Manager Herb Pennock today said it was "news" to him that Jimmy Foxx intended to resign at the end of the season.

"I had heard that Jimmy had been offered a job in Boston," Pennock acknowledged, but added: "He hasn't been released."

Foxx, regarded by many as one of the game's greatest first basemen, has twice before announced his retirement. He is presently under a one-year contract to the Philadelphia team.

Fans Have Chance To Aid Fund At Football Game

New Castle sportsmen will have an opportunity tonight at the football game, to contribute towards the expenses of treating Halfback Dick Betres of the Butler high school. Dick was badly injured last Saturday night when a BB pellet hit him in the left eye, as he was playing for his team. The pellet was shot from the bleachers.

The injury has proved serious. Since last Saturday night Betres has been in the Butler hospital and every possible medical attention given him. Continuing hemorrhage has been going on in the eye and yesterday a specialist from Pittsburgh was called in to operate.

The expenses of the hospitalization and treatment will be heavy, much heavier than was first anticipated. In a letter to Clare B. Book, principal of the senior high school, one of the physicians in charge of the case states that it is now doubtful if they can save the sight of the eye.

A number of fans felt that New Castle had a moral obligation in the matter and Carl E. Paisley is heading up a committee to take contributions to defray the expenses. Tonight between halves the ushers and program girls will pass collection boxes through the crowd and the money received will apply on the expenses incurred by the family of Dick Betres.

This is the football fan's opportunity tonight to demonstrate that their sympathies are more than words. If most of the crowd puts in a small contribution each, the total will be large enough to pay the expenses or at least the major part of them.

SOFTBALL TOURNEY EXTENDED

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21—(INS)—Officials announced today that the 13th annual world softball tournament, scheduled to end tonight, would be extended to Sunday night because rain has washed out so many games.

Schoolboy Battle Will Draw Crowd

Expect Upwards Of 10,000 In Stadium For Eleventh Clash Between Schools

Kickoff Slated For 8 O'Clock; New Castle High After Third Straight Win

With an expected crowd of upwards of 10,000 fans in the stands, two highly trained and eager football teams—New Castle and Youngstown East will trot out on the greensward of Taggart field for the 11th renewal of their series that began back in 1926. The kickoff at 8 o'clock will be the signal for expected thrills and chills as the young high school football players strive for victory.

Not for many years has a game caught the fancy of the fans here as this one has done. The heavy ticket sale presages a jammed stadium to watch the schoolboy gridders go through their paces. New Castle high has won the two opening games. New Castle seems to be on the march again, the fans have been talking about the East High game.

What Will Happen

"Can Youngstown East stop New Castle this year," the fans wonder. "Will Youngstown East be the first team to dent the New Castle goal line," is another query.

Only the playing of the contest tonight can settle those two questions.

Youngstown East came here in 1944 loaded for "bear". They had speed, deception and power-plus, they went home with a 26 to 7 win, at the head of them. New Castle had beaten East in 1942 by the same score 26 to 7, and in 1943 the teams battled to a "Mexican standoff" at 0-0. "What will happen this year," the fans will be out there tonight to find out.

New Castle Ready

The game will find New Castle ready with a veteran backfield backed up by a power-laden line "three deep". Only in three line positions will New Castle have men who did not face Youngstown last year—Jimmy Abraham at left if he has recovered sufficiently will be one new man. Big Al Tate at left tackle will be another newcomer to the "big time," and if Abraham is not able to play, his place will be taken by George Thomas, also a newcomer to the varsity, but who got his baptism last week in the Butler game when Abraham had to leave.

George Toney the right end is also facing Youngstown for the first time. All three—Abraham, Toney and Thomas performed like veterans last week.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has given the linemen plenty of scrimmage drill this week, particularly on blocking. He is satisfied that his line will give a good account of themselves.

Gribble At Quarter

The New Castle backfield that faces East will have one new man—Gene Gribble, the sophomore quarterback up from Washington high, who has handled the signal-barking reins in the first two games, like a veteran. The other three men—Sammy Flora at left-half, Buzzer Panella at right-half and Jim Garberry or Bill Walls at fullback all are seasoned gridders. Big Jim Garberry pulled a muscle in kicking in the Butler game and has taken it easy all week. He may be in shape for the kickoff.

Against this array of talent Youngstown East will have but two regulars from last year to offer—Al Bodine the big fullback and Paul Santillo a guard, the latter is reported as nursing an arm injury and may not start, leaving Bodine as the only regular who started here in 1944. Joe Massaro a reserve last year may be at right guard for East at the start this evening.

Aerial Attack Hinted

Youngstown will no doubt as in other years resort to a forward passing attack to cross the New Castle goal line. East uses the Notre Dame system and that means plenty of passes. New Castle in the first two games has shown fine pass defense, they will have to be alert tonight.

On the other hand New Castle has not opened up its passing attack in the first two games, maybe the sons of Pa [illegible] will do a little pass tossing themselves. New Castle will not throw any passes unless it is necessary.

Sports Editor Runs Into Conn Over In Europe

Lawton Carver Of INS Meets "Billy The Kid" And Gabfest Is Result

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Another sports writer and I were sitting back in a dark corner of the ballroom in the Grand hotel in Nuernberg, when we saw a familar figure picking his way through the dancers and coming toward us.

"I have driven 10 hours in a jeep," said Billy Conn, "to be with you guys here tonight and it was worth it. How's things back in the states? How's Uncle Mike Jacobs? How's the fight racket?"

Conn was unshaved, grimy, tired and unfed.

Not Particular

"I don't want anything," he said, "except to sit here and talk to you guys. I've been over here 15 months. All I want to do is talk to somebody from the states—even boxing writers."

Conn talked for several hours, talked about that day when he would get out of the army and how he would beat Joe Louis for the heavyweight championship when finally they meet.

The next time we saw Conn, who will get out of the Army next Tuesday and fight Louis next summer, we were in Paris.

We were about to leave France for good and head on down into Italy for a couple of weeks enroute home. There must have been 20 people in my room that night, coming and going all evening. Sometimes the joint was packed, then it would be almost empty and finally it would be full of people again. Some of them we knew and others were strangers. But Conn was around all the time.

Packed In Hurry

Just before the party broke up I packed my bag and closed it without locking it.

When we got into the Rome airport, I found myself out of cigarets and opened the bag to get a sack full of Bull Durham. A feather stuffed bed spread from the Scribe hotel in Paris and a pewter ice bowl jumped out at me.

I called Capt. Jim Burchard and said:

"I want to report to you that I have in my possession government property, a bed spread and an ice bowl. The Scribe hotel probably has wired ahead that this stuff is missign and MP's probably will move in to pick me up any minute."

This is to notify Conn that he owes me $1.57 plus eight cents for an airmail stamp on a letter I wrote to the International News Service bureau in Paris asking them to explain that the bedspread and ice bowl were on their way back.

Pistol Confiscated

Conn doesn't have to pay it now. He gets out of the army next week and will fight in a month or two. He can take it out of his purse.

In case he thinks that the Italian pistol he gave me in Nuernberg is ample compensation I would like to have him know that it was confiscated in Casablanca.

The bill is $1.57 plus eight cents or $1.65.

I would like to have it out of his first purse.

Chalky Wright Battles Zavala

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Chalky Wright, of Los Angeles, the former featherweight champion who recently took a new lease on life in California rings, meets Humbert Zavala, Mexico City lightweight, in the main ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Wright comes here fresh from triumphs over Willie Joyce, the Gary, Ind., sensation, and Enrique Bolanos, rated the best fighter in California.

Ike Williams Is Out Of Hospital

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Ike Williams, NBA lightweight champion, was released from Mercy hospital Thursday after an X-ray examination disclosed he suffered abdominal muscle injuries in his bout Wednesday night with Sammy Angott.

Officials though earlier the New Yorker's rib had been fractured.

ILLINOIS STAR OUT

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 21.—Eddie McGovern, the nation's leading scorer when he played with Rose Poly in 1942, was lost to the University of Illinois football team today following an emergency appendectomy.

He was to have started against Pittsburgh at right half tomorrow in the game at Champaign. Physicians said he probably could not return to the lineup before November 1.

All five airlines serving New Orleans established perfect safety records during 1944, statistics disclosed. The five lines are Eastern Delta, National, Pan American and Chicago and Southern.

Bob Feller Makes Profession Out Of Art Of Pitching Ball

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Bob Feller is a young star who should be designated not so much as simply a professional pitcher as a man who has made a profession out of the art of pitching baseball.

He never leaves a single angle open that can possibly help him do his job better. His one-hitter over Detroit yesterday may yet make history in a season that may find both leagues in the closest finishes since 1908.

Out at Great Lakes before the war ended we were discussing whether the four years Bob has given to his country would take much out of him as a pitcher. "Pinky" Higgins put it this way:

"He may not be quite so wicked to hit against, but he'll probably be a better pitcher."

During the four years Feller has been in the Navy his arm may not have been getting any better, but mentally he probably is a greater pitcher today than he was before. That's what Higgins meant.

His mental approach to the game is that of a genuine doctor or lawyer. He's always studying, and he'll put out whatever he is convinced will help him become the best in the business.

All this that he is willing to put into his profession is simply insurance that he will continue to be the No. 1 hurler a whole lot longer than he would be without this routine.

BYRON NELSON LEADS

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 21—(INS)—Byron Nelson was back in his accustomed place at the head of the parade today after a spectacular display of his golfing form in the first day's play of the $10,000 Esmeralda Open at Spokane.

Nelson stroked steadily through rain, hail and a strong, gusty wind over the already rain-soaked Indian Canyon course to turn in a dizzling 66—6 under par.

LIMIT RACING MEETS

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 21—(INS)—Ex-Gov. Charles Edison today advocated that the state of New Jersey either assume complete ownership of race tracks or abolish them.

And at the same time, the racing commission decreed a limitation of 30 days on all future racing meetings. Since 1942, when the sport was legalized in New Jersey, Garden State Park has operated on a 50-day schedule.

Bids—Motor Vehicle

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the furnishing and delivery of a 1½ ton commercial chassis on which there is to be mounted fire-fighting apparatus which the Borough of Wampum proposes to purchase.

Said chassis must have a wheel base of at least 160 inches so as to accommodate a hose body with a capacity of 1200 feet of 2½ inch double jacket hose and the engine must be of such horse power as will operate a pump having a capacity of 500 gallons per minute at 120 pounds per square inch pump pressure.

The chassis or truck must be equipped with dual rear wheels and the tire size must be 7.50x20.

The truck or chassis must be equipped with a hand or emergency brake which operates separately from the drive shaft so as to permit the engine to operate said pump while and when the brake is applied.

Bidders must understand that this bid is being submitted at the time bids are being received for fire-fighting apparatus and that the bid price will include delivery of said chassis to the factory of the successful bidder on said fire-fighting apparatus.

Bidders must accompany their bid with a certified check, payable to the Borough of Wampum, in the amount of at least $300.00, which check shall be forfeited by the bidder if, after the acceptance of his bid, the bidder fails to enter into a written contract and give the bond or bonds required by the Borough code.

The bid shall be submitted in a sealed envelope plainly marked "Bid—Motor Vehicle" and will be received by the undersigned until 8:00 o'clock P. M., on October 9, 1945, at which time bids will be opened publicly in the Council Room of said Borough at a meeting of Council to be held on that date. The undersigned will receive bids at his office or at his residence on Kay Street, Wampum, Pennsylvania. Bids may be mailed to the undersigned at the risk of the bidder that they will be received on time. The successful bidder shall be required to enter into a written contract with the Borough of Wampum for the furnishing and delivery of said chassis and to give a performance bond as required by the Borough Code.

The Borough reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids.

Borough of Wampum, Pennsylvania

Legal—News—Sept. 14, 21, 28, 1945.

Bids—Fire-Fighting Apparatus

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the furnishing and delivery of a combination hose body, Booster tank, pump and fire-fighting apparatus, all in accordance with specifications on file in his office and available to bidders.

The body is to be mounted on a 1½ ton chassis and shall have a hose capacity of 1200 feet, 2½ inch double jacket hose.

The water tank or Booster tank shall have a capacity of at least 100 gallons and is to be mounted on the front end of the hose body.

The pump shall be a centrifugal pump and must comply with the standard requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and shall have a capacity of 500 gallons per minute at 120 pounds per square inch pump pressure.

In examining specifications and submitting bids bidders must understand that said specifications are general and that the Borough Council may, in its discretion, accept a bid in which minor variations appear. For that reason bidders should submit with their bid their standard set of specifications covering a hose body, tank and pump which comply with the minimum specifications herein established. In this connection bidders may use their own proposal form containing said specifications.

The present fire-fighting equipment of the Borough of Wampum consists of a 1926 American LaFrance Cosmopolitan truck and each bid shall contain a statement of the sum to be allowed in return for said truck and fire-fighting equipment, which sum is to be deducted from the price bid. It is understood that the Borough of Wampum will retain so much of its present equipment and is not duplicated or supplied in the new equipment and does not form a part of the standard fire-fighting apparatus equipment.

Bidders must accompany their bid with a certified check, payable to the Borough of Wampum, in the amount of at least $300.00, which check shall be forfeited by the bidder if, after the acceptance of his bid, the bidder fails to enter into a written contract and give the bond or bonds required by the Borough Code.

The bid shall be submitted in a sealed envelope plainly marked "Bid—Fire-Fighting Apparatus" and will be received by the undersigned until 8:00 o'clock P. M., on October 9th, 1945, at which time bids will be opened publicly in the Council Room of said Borough at a meeting of Council to be held on that date. The undersigned will receive bids at his office or at his residence on Kay Street, Wampum, Pennsylvania. Bids may be mailed to the undersigned at the risk of the bidder that they will be received on time. The successful bidder shall be required to enter into a written contract with the Borough of Wampum for the furnishing and delivery of said apparatus and to give a performance bond as required by the Borough Code.

The Borough reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids.

AN ORDINANCE

Regulating all fumigating with poisonous gas within the City of New Castle; providing for the licensing of fumigators; prohibiting any person to fumigate without a license, and all persons, not licensed fumigators, from going in or upon premises while the same are labeled and marked for fumigation.

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED AND ENACTED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEW CASTLE, PA., THAT: It shall be unlawful for any person to conduct, make, or cause to be conducted or made, any fumigation by any poisonous gas within the said City, unless he shall have been previously licensed as a fumigator in the said City, and has complied with all of the terms and conditions of this Ordinance and other Laws and Ordinances relating to fumigation and the public health within the said City.

SECTION 2. The term "poisonous gas" as used in this Ordinance shall mean any substance which, by itself or in combination with other substances, liberates a gas, fume or vapor in a concentration of more than 40 parts per million and is used for the destruction or control of pathogenic bacteria, insects, fungi, vermin, rodents and other pests.

SECTION 3. Any person desiring to conduct or make fumigation in the City of New Castle, or to operate or do business as a fumigator with poisonous gas, shall make application to the City Health Department for a license to operate as a fumigator, on forms to be provided by the City, and shall pay to the Health Officer a fee of Five ($5.00) Dollars to cover the cost of an examination hereinafter provided for.

SECTION 4. Such application when received shall be delivered to the City chemist or other graduate chemist who has had a course in gas analysis, designated by the Director of Public Safety, who shall examine the applicant as to his knowledge of gas, experience in the use of gases used in fumigation and their physical, chemical and toxic properties, the methods and practices of fumigation, the regulations of the City relating thereto and such other matters as the examiner may deem necessary in the interest of safety.

SECTION 5. If, in the opinion of the examiner, the applicant is qualified to safely conduct fumigation, a license for that purpose shall be issued to the applicant by the Health Officer. The license shall continue in effect until voluntarily surrendered by the licensee or his failure to comply with the present or future Ordinances and regulations of the City relating to fumigation, provided, however, the City may require any licensee, without additional charge, to submit, at any reasonable time, to a re-examination as to his fitness and qualification.

SECTION 6. Any fumigator, licensed in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, desiring to conduct a fumigation in any building or premises within the City, shall make application to the Health Officer for a permit so to do upon blanks furnished by the City, stating the name and address of the fumigator, the location and character of the premises to be fumigated, the names of the owners or tenants and persons authorizing the work, the reason for the fumigation, the date and hours of fumigation and the general precautions to be taken to safeguard the public. Any change in time of fumigation or premises to be fumigated shall be approved in advance by the Health Officer. A permit fee of One ($1.00) Dollar shall accompany each application.

SECTION 7. Applications for permits shall be made to the Health Officer at least twenty-four (24) hours before the time designated for commencement of the fumigation, in order to permit such investigation of the premises as City authorities may deem necessary.

SECTION 8. Every fumigation within the City shall be conducted in accordance with the following regulations:

(1.) When using hydrocyanic acid gas in fumigation the concentration shall never be greater than one per cent. This concentration of hydrocyanic acid gas shall be the standard of toxicity as regards all other poisonous gases.

(2.) The fumigation permit shall be posted in a prominent place at the entrance of the premises to be fumigated and kept posted until fumigation and ventilation are completed.

(3.) Warning signs supplied by the fumigator and approved by the Director of Public Safety, shall be posted at every entrance to the premises and kept posted until fumigation and ventilation are completed.

(4.) The fumigator, immediately prior to the commencement of a fumigation, shall notify every person in the premises of the intended fumigation and no person shall remain on the premises during such fumigation. Attached houses shall be considered as one building.

(5.) The fumigator shall warn occupants of adjacent premises immediately prior to the commencement of a fumigation and all windows in such premises shall be kept closed during the fumigation and ventilation period, if inspection by the fumigator shows a possibility of gas gaining entrance except where formaldehyde candles are used.

(6.) All members of a fumigating crew shall wear masks of a type approved by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Such masks shall be in good working order from the time the fumigation work is started until completion of ventilation and the release of the premises for occupation.

7.. Before distribution of the fumigation material the rooms of the building must be properly cleaned and all openings, including keyhole, except the entrance, shall be securely locked and properly sealed by gummed paper, adhesive or masking tape, or other suitable materials to stuff orifices or cracks and prevent the egress of gases during fumigation. All fires on the premises shall also be extinguished prior to the distribution of the fumigation material.

(8.) Upon completion of the preparations for fumigation, the fumigator shall make a final inspection and see that all workers and other persons are out of the premises. Immediately following such inspection the final entrance shall be sealed, locked and the keyhole taped.

(9.) During the period from the commencement of preparation for fumigation until the premises are released after ventilation, the following persons shall be on duty: two men, one of whom shall be a licensed fumigator, from the commencement of the preparation until the premises are sealed; one properly instructed watchman thereafter until fumigation has been completed and ventilation is started; and two men from the time ventilation is started until completed and the premises released.

(10.) The fumigator shall at all times have available a supply of ammonium carbonate and aromatic spirits of ammonia for first aid in case of accident.

(11.) The fumigator shall use test paper to determine leaks in the premises during fumigation and after ventilation shall apply test paper to bedding and clothing to determine the presence of gas. The fumigator shall not leave the premises until reasonably certain that they have been thoroughly ventilated and the premises shall not be occupied for a period of at least eight hours after the fumigator leaves.

(12.) The fumigator shall deposit all fumigation residue in holes dug in the ground for that purpose, of a depth of not less than six inches, and the soil shall be replaced in the hole. Fumigation residue shall never be dumped in sewers.

(13.) When any fumigation has been completed, and the premises subjected to such fumigation are safe for occupancy and use, the fumigator shall cause all warning signs to be removed from the premises.

SECTION 9. It shall be unlawful for any person who is not a licensed fumigator or a qualified watchman appointed by a licensed fumigator, to go upon any lot or premises in the City of New Castle which has been labeled and marked for fumigation as provided in this Ordinance, as long as the labels, marks and signs giving notice of such fumigation are erected on the said premises.

Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this Ordinance, upon conviction, before a magistrate or court of competent jurisdiction, shall be subject to the payment of the fine, and not to exceed Three Hundred ($300.00) Dollars for each offense, and upon his failure to pay the said fine, with costs of prosecution, to imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days; and any fumigator who shall be convicted of a violation of this Ordinance, shall have his license revoked immediately and may not thereafter be granted another license as a fumigator in the City of New Castle.

STOCK MARKET FIRMER TODAY

Market Opens Firmer But Turns Quiet And Mixed As Profit-Taking Occurs

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Stocks opened firm and active today but turned mixed and quiet when profit takers renewed operations in scattered leaders late in the first hour.

Trading moved along at a fair clip, approximately 370,000 shares in the first period as against 290,000 yesterday.

Losses ranged to a half point with steels and motors softest. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem both lost ground. At 127¼ Chrysler was down ⅜. General Motors eased to 73½, off ½. Rails were hesitant with Pennsylvania Railroad and Southern Pacific off a bit.

Utilities were steady. High priced blue chips were generally better. Allied Chemical advanced a point. Coppers continued to forge ahead with American smelting up more than a point. Other market groups were quiet and narrow.

Bond market prices appeared firm although turnover was limited.

Aircraft Carrier Most Interesting

Diversity Of Activity Causes It To Be Likened To "Three Ring Circus"

By JULIAN HART
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD ADMIRAL McCAIN'S FLAGSHIP, OFF JAPAN (Delayed) —There are as many answers to the question "What is an aircraft carrier?" as there are men to write them.

Some have seen it as a floating airstrip; some have looked into the long hangar deck and called it a great garage, or super service station; others have repeated the trite but true "a ship is like a city".

An aircraft carrier is each of these things but it is more than any of them, and more than their total, or an aircraft carrier is a collection of impressions, sounds, smells, incidents, swift remembered moments and crawling hours.

"It's like a three ring circus," Captain Jimmie Thach, task force 38's operations officer said thoughtfully, "and yet, it's more than that; something better."

Park in Brooklyn

At the moment he said it, this carrier was a park in Brooklyn or St. Louis or Los Angeles. The sweating bandsmen were blaring a concert amidships; men stripped to the waist strolled among the lashed-down planes as they would among the trees; others dangled their bare feet over the edges of the deck as they would over a pool.

And it can be a poignant thing: A boy with wings turning to another pilot, playing "White Christmas" on the ready room phonograph, and saying:

"Why do you have to play that song? I haven't been home in three Christmases and I could damn near cry!"

It is a warm thing: In the pitch black of the hangar deck less than 100 miles off Japan as the Negro mess boys—Skipper, Sears, Hatten, Billy and Major—chant a deep south spiritual.

"As sees trouble in the skies over mah head."

Gay and Alive

And a carrier is a gay, wildly intoxicating thing as pilots scramble, grinning, from their planes, impatient to send their mates' ears with how they scored with their bombs and bullets.

"Boy! Did that locomotive ever blow up!..right between the stacks; smoke and fire all over the damn thing...three planes in a row, and gassed up, right there on the ground...."

It's a tense, nervous thing, too, when death-bent enemy planes are in the vicinity and men look to their helmet and flash gear; not nervously but sensibly.

There is the ribald touch, as well: the evenings of movies in the ready rooms and the loud and lusty comment of healthy, razor-edged young animals pushing from their minds the flak bursts over Kure or Kobe or Tokyo.

Relief From Tragedy

For some, it is the release from tragedy, like the tall, lean-cheeked Texan who lost two roommates in a week. A carrier is all things to all men who fight her, yet different to each, and can no more be confined in description to silhouette and tonnage than the companionship of a good but sometimes petulent woman can be confined in description to face and form.

And despite her foibles, a carrier is as difficult to part with. It was a tanned, wiry little Scotsman with three stars on his shirt collar who stood on the bridge in the clean, gusty air and said:

"Carrier warfare? It's the greatest in the world!"

His sharp blue eyes roamed gently, yes, lovingly, over the broad flight deck, the folded wings of the planes and the shapes of other carriers beyond. And then his eyes came back, intently, and he asked the question that couldn't be answered:

"When all this is over, is there anything in the world you can do that will take the place of all this?"

This is a carrier—your knight in modern armor, with a quiver of aircraft to be arched at the enemy's heart from the crossbows of her catapults.

'Fake' Divisions Used To Trick Germans In War

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Another war secret—"a sleeping beauty" army—was disclosed today.

Officials of the United States Rubber company revealed the army used truckloads of rubber tanks, guns and other military paraphernalia which were inflated to stimulate divisions of thousands of motorized units.

Only 1,000 specifically trained United States army engineers were needed to operate the "rubber army".

The "fake" divisions were used in maneuvers to trick the Germans during the Normandy invasion and elsewhere.

Urge Support Of Back To School Drive In State

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—(INS)—State-wide support of the "back to school" drive was urged today by Gov. Edward Martin.

Pointing out that 331,000 pupils had left school for war jobs, the chief executive said it was "essential to the welfare of these young people that they resume their rightful places in the classrooms in preparation for the future."

Governor Martin designated the week beginning September 30 as religious education week and requested the state's 5,500,000 church members pay particular attention to the "instruction of our youth in the eternal principles of religious faith".
